

Moose River Mine Roof Sinks, Says Mine's Head, Seeing Structure's Doom

Dr. Robertson and Scadding Tell of Bleak Despair Which Obsessed Them During Their 10-Day Entombment.

Moose River, N. S., April 24.—Through the long, dark hours before their rescue from the Moose River gold mine, Dr. D. E. Robertson and Charles Alfred Scadding despaired of life, it became known today from the full story of their 10-day entombment. And with cause—the roof of the mine from which they and their dead companion were removed yesterday was settling slowly today, Minister of Mines Michael Dwyer said at Halifax and could not hold up longer than a day or two.

"I am absolutely satisfied that today we could not have gotten into it as the narrow opening to the tomb of the two men sagged six inches after they were taken out," he said. "By the end of the week the whole structure of the mine will be crushed completely."

Dr. Robertson, practicing his profession as physician even through his own danger, helped Scadding to keep alive and held Herman Magill in his arms when the third man died.

Patience and quietude, the two survivors conserved their strength, facing their dangers sensibly and working to overcome them until the miners of the tunneling rescue crew finally arrived.

Only today, when Dr. Robertson was recovering rapidly in an emergency hospital here, and Scadding was being treated in the Halifax Hospital to which he was flown, was the whole, dramatic story learned.

Four Sharp Cracks

Four sharp cracks, like giant rifle shots, warned the three men of approaching disaster Easter Sunday night, while they were making an inspection tour of the mine.

All three leaped from the main operating shaft to the 141-foot level, and for hours after the cave-in, they heard the grinding and rumbling of the earth continuing like thunder.

During this period, Dr. Robertson believed the whole mine area had collapsed and that rescue was impossible.

More imaginative, Scadding pictured the mine shaft-house as toppling into the pit, carrying its crew with it and thus barring rescuers from any knowledge of the whereabouts of the entombed men at the time the fall occurred.

Magill, already ill when he entered the mine, was too sick to worry about the chances for rescue. His two companions during the first five days of their imprisonment saw little chance of rescue. They could not hear dynamite blasting at the surface or the diamond drill.

For two days after the cave-in April 12, they burned bits of dry wood in hope the smoke would filter out and be seen above. By Wednesday, their supply of wood was exhausted and they had no indication their signals were detected.

Drank Much Water

The three slept well during the first few days of their entombment, and hunger did not cause them great suffering. They drank water freely.

When they slept, they locked themselves in one another's arms to preserve what heat foodless bodies would generate.

Because they did not hear the diamond drill break through to their underground pit last Saturday night, the three did not tell the world they lived until early Sunday morning.

When a flare was dropped into the shaft through the diamond drill hole they retreated as far as they could, fearing that they had caused a loose stick of dynamite to explode.

Only when a siren sounded through the hole did they realize that communication had been established.

They rushed over, shouting and tapping the pipe, and the miners above knew then for the first time that the three men were alive.

After communication was established, Magill did not talk to his wife, although Dr. Robertson and Scadding spoke often.

Magill did not want his wife to know he was in a serious condition, suffering from stomach ulcer, pleurisy and pneumonia.

Magill Dies

Four hours Dr. Robertson held Magill, his partner in the mine venture, in his arms, trying to keep him warm. Monday morning, less than 24 hours after the diamond drill broke through, Magill sat up suddenly, spoke incoherently. In two minutes he was dead.

While Magill, 20 years old, succumbed, the 62-year-old Dr. Robertson contracted a cold, and Scadding, 44-year-old, a headache, suffered from "french feet." They lost surprisingly little weight, however, because they had plenty of drinking water.

Magill died even after water had been sent to him. He soaked everything except the spot where the men laid out their bodies as far as a creekbank through which Dr. Robertson and Scadding could be seen Wednesday.

Political Tension in Spain

Madrid, April 24 (AP).—Political unrest and violence swept several small towns today, although tranquility prevailed generally in larger provincial centers and capitals. Lieutenant Francisco Lopez Capera, a civil guard in the town of Lelija, province of Sevilla, was clubbed to death by extremists. The leftist group burned the front of a church in an attempt to fire the whole building, then looted coffee headquarters and destroyed furniture.

Chemical Concern to Locate in the Former Lorillard Plant Here

An old established chemical concern, engaged primarily in fur dyeing, has leased with an option to purchase the former Lorillard plant on Grand street. The lease was signed Thursday afternoon in New York city. The plant is owned by John K. Lencke and he and a representative of the mayor's industrial committee went to New York city Thursday morning to have the lease signed.

This is the new concern that the mayor's industrial committee has been negotiating with for some time. The new concern plans to start operations here with a force of 150 men, and as the business expands will employ more men. The majority of the men to be employed will be local men.

Included in the lease of the old Lorillard plant is the option taken on the large plot of land surrounding the plant which will be used for future development of the plant in building an addition to present plant.

It is expected that after the concern has been operating that fully 400 to 500 men will be employed.

The mayor's industrial committee is now negotiating with two of the tenants in the Lorillard plant to move to other quarters in the city. One of the concerns turns out the large wooden blocks used in butcher shops while the other is the Schilling Furniture Company.

The Lorillard plant contains 40,000 square feet of space and all of this space will be used by the chemical concern in its operations. It is one of the largest, if not the largest, industrial plants in the city.

The mayor's industrial committee has been negotiating with this concern for some time.

Representatives of the new concern were in Kingston on Wednesday conferring with Mayor Heiselman, and also spent considerable time at the Lorillard plant conferring with Mr. Lencke.

The name of the new concern or what its manufacturers was not made public by the industrial committee.

A number of difficulties must be hurdled before the plant definitely settles here, including the burning of the leases of the firms now located in the Lorillard building and the moving of the same.

Rome, April 24.—The advance of the main body of the Northern Italian army on Ethiopia's capital, Addis Ababa, has begun, Marshal Pietro Badoglio reported today.

The commander-in-chief of the Fascist forces in East Africa announced the occupation of Uorra Ilu, about 38 miles south of Dessye, on the road to the capital.

Today's was the first communique mentioning the general advance against Addis Ababa from Dessye, 165 miles northeast of the capital and former headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie.

Uorra Ilu, the first main town on the imperial highway from Dessye to Addis Ababa, was occupied by a native Eritrean Askari without encountering resistance.

At the same time, Badoglio reported, the advance of the southern army persisted with the occupation of Adde and Gabrehor on the Somali-land front.

Squadrons Protect Advance

Aerial squadrons protected the northern Fascist advance guard, already well down the road to the capital.

Ethiopian defenders ranged the 165-mile route from Dessye to Addis Ababa, menacing the Fascist front lines and persisting in efforts to break up the road.

Italian advisers said there was dissension in Addis Ababa itself, however, as to whether to resist the Fascist attack, or to surrender definitely.

One Italian dispatch said Lieutenant Frere, a Belgian military officer who arrived at Djibouti, French Somaliland, reported Ethiopian officials had decided to send a commission to meet the advancing Italians, bearing a white flag and key to the city.

The Fascist high command moved in a body to Dessye, former field headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie, to close its campaign.

The Stefani (Italian) News Agency announced that the Sabaudia division also reached Dessye, and private sources said this force would lead the major movement against Addis Ababa, accompanied by a strong tank corps.

Some Rome military sources expressed belief that movement on Addis Ababa was taking place from Neghelli, to catch the Capital defenses from the rear, while the northern army moved down on the imperial highway.

The end of the war was expected now by the Italians to come before May 3—within seven months of its start.

Dispatches from Dessye said reports were current there that the emperor already had left for the British Sudan, and that rumors were strong in the Italian headquarters that Haile Selassie's eldest son, Asfa Wosan, would be proclaimed regent.

To The Last Man

Addis Ababa, April 24 (AP).—An Ethiopian government spokesman declared today his nation would fight the Italian invaders to the last man.

Even if Addis Ababa fell into Italian hands, he asserted, the war would be carried on with the Fascists on the defensive against Ethiopian guerrilla tactics.

Italian reports that Ethiopian officials had decided to send a mission to Marshal Pietro Badoglio, bearing a white flag, were declared by the spokesman to be "intentionally false."

The spokesman minimized the effects of any Italian entry into Addis Ababa, pointing out that many native chieftains refused even to enter the Capital, considering it a "white man's town."

The fall of Addis Ababa and of Harar, second largest city of Ethiopia, the spokesman said, would mean only loss of the two radio stations.

Twice this morning, a single Italian trimotor plane appeared over Addis Ababa. After the second visit, many shops closed, fearing a bombing attack.

Emphasis was laid by observers upon the presence in Addis Ababa of Crown Prince Asfa Wosan, who discussed with the cabinet and tribal chieftains defense plans for the Capital.

Session Is Cancelled

Trenton, N. J., April 24 (AP).—New Jersey Assembly leaders, their legislative chamber held in siege for three days by jobless men and women demanding resumption of state relief payments, suddenly cancelled a session which had been called for today to deal with the problem.

Paul R. Williams, Assembly clerk, sent telegrams to members that the session of the House called for 10 a. m. had been cancelled. No reason was given.

Makes Her Comeback

Hollywood, Calif., April 24 (AP).—At the age of 19 years, little Miss Percy Ryan is making a comeback in the movies. ## 30 Million Relief Bonds Issue For Fall Voting Suggested By Lehman

Governor Asks in Addition That Lawmakers Approprate Further Sum of $10,000,000 from General Fund for Relief.

SECURITY BOLT

Possibility Held That Republicans May Bolt Party Ranks to Pass Social Security Bill.

Albany, N. Y., April 24 (AP).—Governor Lehman asked the legislature today to authorize submission to the electorate next fall of a proposal to issue $30,000,000 in bonds for unemployment relief.

In addition, he asked the lawmakers to appropriate the further sum of $10,000,000 from the general fund.

"Without this additional amount we may find ourselves without funds during the autumn and early winter months," the governor declared.

Since 1930, New York state voters have approved unemployment relief issues totaling $185,000,000. An additional $45,000,000 has been appropriated by the legislature.

The $10,000,000 appropriation from the general funds would be used to supplement the bonds available for relief until February 1, 1937, and the $30,000,000 bond issue for the remainder of next year.

The governor told the legislature in a lengthy message that $55,000,000 is now available until February 1, 1937, but that because of an increased number of persons on home relief at least $66,000,000 will be needed.

"While it is probable that the cost may be reduced to some extent during the summer and autumn months," the governor said, "it is reasonable to suppose that the average cost for the entire year will not be less than at the rate of five and a half million dollars a month, or say $66,000,000 for the period from February 1, 1936, to February 1, 1937.

"If these figures are correct, we obviously have not now in sight sufficient unallocated funds to carry the state's share of relief into the next calendar year."

The governor pointed out that the legislature may suggest that a part or all of the additional $10,000,000 can be taken from the $20,000,000 bond monies which have been earmarked for permanent state improvements.

"To do so," he said, "may not be a wise thing to do from the point of view of the interests of the taxpayers and of the services to be rendered by the state to all of its citizens over the period of three or five years."

In all events, inasmuch as your honorable bodies have not yet appropriated any of the $20,000,000 bond monies and inasmuch as the governor is in no position to know your final decision in that regard, these considerations must be weighed and balanced in the judgments of the members of the legislature."

Any failure of the state to provide sufficient funds, the governor declared, would "not only cause untold hardship on our needy unemployed but place an insupportable burden on the localities."

The possibility that a sufficient number of Republican Assemblymen may bolt party ranks to assure passage of the New Deal social security program in the Republican-controlled Assembly was seen today as the week-end lull settled over the legislature.

Seven G. O. P. Votes Needed.

Only seven Republican votes would be needed to pass the eight-point bill, providing the Democrats stand solidly behind it as now is expected. The Republicans have 81 members and the Democrats 69.

Authoritative sources within the Republican party indicated that at least three or four members already are in sympathy with the program, and that several more may join them by the time Democratic Assembly Leader Irwin Steingart moves to discharge the rules committee of the measure early next week.

The discharge action will be necessary because the Republican leadership has scrapped the program in committee. The Senate, under Democratic leadership, is expected to pass the bill.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, April 24 (AP).—The position of the treasury April 22: Receipts, $59,122,883.23; expenditures, $23,631,144.27. Net balance, $35,491,738.96. Customs receipts for the fiscal year, since July 1, $2,277,222,646.70. Expenditures, $5,831,896,735.57 including $2,449,185,427.52 of emergency expenditures. Excess of expenditures, $22,554,674,087.37. Gross debt, $21,440,027,043.33. A decrease of $64,263.50 under the previous day. Gold assets, $10,209,372,452.22.

Declares War on Statues

Washington, April 24 (AP).—Representative Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois declared war today on the capital marble general and bronze admirals. His aim is to make the statues retreat from the city's parks to the suburbs, and convert the square into automobile parking lots, thus relieving the automobile congestion and reducing traffic deaths.

Tax Bill Strikes Trouble In House As Democrat Sees Business Knockout

Representative Lamneck, Ohio, Sustains Republican Attack That Thousands of Concerns Would Be Destroyed in This Country.

MONOPOLY TREND

Opponent Says Bill Would Prevent Building of Necessary Surpluses for Various Improvements.

Washington, April 24 (AP).—The administration's $803,000,000 tax bill struck its first blast of Democratic opposition in the House today when Representative Lamneck (D-Ohio) contended it would destroy the nation's business.

The member of the Ways and Means Committee which wrote the measure took the floor after Representative Reed (R-N.Y.) renewed the Republican opposition to the intricate tax plan with such terms as "drastic" and "coercive."

"This bill," Lamneck said, "will destroy absolutely thousands of business concerns of this country."

He added that it attempts by taxation "to compel business institutions to follow our bidding" and contended "no such power is vested in the Constitution."

The principal aim of the bill, Lamneck said, is to compel the distribution of earnings of the closely held corporation, "the most striking example of which is the Ford Motor Company."

Then he questioned the bill's money raising capacity and asserted a belief that the revenue this year will be less than under existing law.

Applying to the House to consider the bill on its merits and not from a party standpoint, Lamneck said: "It will tend toward monopoly."

"It will prevent weak corporations and those with impaired capital from rebuilding their capital structures which has been terribly depleted during the depression."

"It will prevent the accumulation of the necessary surplus for the rainy day to pay dividends during the depression; to keep men employed during the depression years; it will prevent business from accumulating earnings for plant improvement and for developments generally."

"It will tend toward overcapitalization; it advocates a policy exactly opposite to our past history of saving and paying off our debts."

The Senate Finance Committee took its second session on the complicated revenue plan after which Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) announced:

"I don't anticipate any great amount of trouble in getting a bill out."

Only 9 of the 21 members of the committee attended the executive meeting. L. H. Parker, chief of staff of the joint congressional taxation committee, explained the new corporation levies.

Whether the discussions would develop into a concrete move to write major changes into the bill, which makes sweeping alterations in the corporate tax structure, was not yet apparent.

Most committee members had not yet decided whether they would go along with the plan, although there had been some critical comments on the proposal from Democrats as well as Republicans.

Observers recalled, however, that a similar hostility in the House committee diminished quickly when alternatives such as increased income taxes on lower brackets were mentioned.

While senators were getting their first look at the bill, it was being warmly debated on the House floor. In a general discussion scheduled to extend into next week.

One proposal being discussed by Senate Committee members was to modify the President's plan for taxing corporations on the basis of their undistributed profits. This modified plan, details of which have not been disclosed, would then be superimposed on the present corporate tax structure, which would be retained on the statute books.

The House bill, which was drafted after President Roosevelt called for tax revision, would repeal all corporate taxes after a year and substitute a graduated tax on adjusted net income based upon the percentage retained in surplus.

8 Women Narrowly Escape Asphyxiation at Elmendorf Street Church on Thursday

"Guillotine in Capital" Considered an Insult

Washington, April 24 (AP).—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) today described as "shocking political effrontery" a suggestion that a guillotine be set up in front of the new Supreme Court building.

"The March number of the 'Democratic Digest,' published by the Democratic national committee," he said in a statement, "contains the following amazing editorial: 'The original guillotine which decapitated Louis XVI, loyal friend of the American colonies when they needed a friend, was sold in France on St. Valentine's day for $167. With American liberties at stake, it might not be inappropriate to buy that guillotine and set it up in front of the new judicial temple which frowns across the park that separates it from the Capitol.'"

"I do not know what particular implication is intended by this shocking political effrontery."

"It is either a ghastly joke, or an ominous prospectus. In either intolerable event, most Americans who love their institutions will demand explanation and apology."

Honduran Revolt Reported in Mexico By Several Travelers

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

Mexico City, April 24.—Travelers arriving by air from Nicaragua reported today a bloody revolt broke out in the Central American Republic of Honduras, with rebels moving on Tegucigalpa, capital of President Carías's government.

Senora Anita Lagos de Lopez Gutierrez, widow of one-time President of Honduras General Rafael Lopez Gutierrez, who lives here, said she received information indicating that the insurgents were successful in their first engagement.

Her reports said rebel forces defeated loyal troops at Durey, about 35 miles southeast of Tegucigalpa, and drove them across the border into Nicaragua.

The travelers, after coming here by airplane from Nicaragua, southern neighboring Republic of Honduras, brought word that rebels, who they said were under the leadership of General Ines R. Duenas, were advancing toward Tegucigalpa from the south.

These reports could not be confirmed immediately.

The travelers explained the absence of direct advices from Honduras with an assertion that President Carías had imposed a strict censorship on telegraph, telephone and postal communications.

Senora Lagos said she understood the rebels were well supplied with arms and ammunition for campaigning in the mountainous country of Honduras.

She named General Duenas and General Eusebio Rivera, chief of the Honduran army general staff as among the leaders.

The origin of the reported opposition to President Carías's three-year-old regime was not known here. Senora Lagos said she was informed some of the rebels carried the red banner of the Liberal Party while others bore the national flag.

"TELL YOUR FATHER I'M OUT OF JAIL," SAYS McNAIR

Pittsburgh, April 24 (AP).—Mayor William N. McNair and Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President, met by chance today but they failed to shake hands.

They were introduced at the county airport. McNair was there to meet friends and Roosevelt had stopped on a flight from Cleveland to Washington.

The mayor addressed Roosevelt: "What relation are you to the man in the White House?"

Roosevelt replied: "I am his son."

McNair said: "Tell your dad I am out of jail."

The mayor was referring to the hour or more he spent in jail last Saturday on an embezzlement charge, since dismissed.

Before the meeting, McNair, a Democrat, told friends: "I won't shake hands with him. I won't shake hands with any of the Roosevelts."

Madreburgh in France

Paris, April 24 (AP).—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were believed to be on the road to the Riviera today, after spending a quiet day in a French chateau, but their exact whereabouts were a mystery.

The famous pilot and his wife, who had been living in Walden since early this year, landed at Bordeaux yesterday, bringing their own automobile. They drove to the beach resort of Le Touquet, but residents there said the couple had not been seen since they first appeared yesterday afternoon in their car.

Friends here said they had received no word from the Lindberghs.

GAS HEATER FUMES

Fumes From Gas Water Heater Escape Through Defective Vent Pipe in Ramsey Memorial Hall.

Eight women working in the kitchen of the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street, Thursday, had a very narrow escape from asphyxiation and only the prompt action on the part of Jesse Freese, who was present and discovered the situation prevented probable serious consequences. The women, members of the congregation, were at work in the kitchen of Ramsey Memorial Hall preparing vegetables for a clam chowder sale when a peculiar combination of circumstances brought about the near serious results.

Three of the women were treated by the inhalator sent to the scene by the emergency crew of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company which was summoned by Mrs. Freese and with the exception of Mrs. William F. Hill of 158 O'Neil street, all of the women were fully recovered today and were back at the church hall assisting in the preparation of the clam chowder sale.

Others who were quite badly affected by the carbon monoxide fumes which were thrown off by reason of a defective flue and the combination of a defective gas burner under the hot water coil and the fact that a peculiarly directed wind blew the fumes back into the kitchen through an open window, were Mrs. Jasper Kelder of 194 Tremper avenue, who was removed to her home and treatment given by the inhalator crew of the gas and electric company; Mrs. Fred Greene of 173 O'Neil street, who likewise was given a whiff of oxygen at her home by the emergency crew.

Mrs. Sarah Van Aken of 147 Manor avenue and her daughter, Mrs. Hester Oakes of 214 Manor avenue, were also quite badly affected and among those who suffered to a slight degree from the effects were Mrs. Walter Cautz of 103 Elmendorf street, Mrs. Nellie M. Forman of 119 South Manor avenue, Mrs. Jesse Freese of 91 Elmendorf street.

Trouble was experienced during the morning when the women were at work in the kitchen which is located in the Ramsey Memorial Hall building of the church. The kitchen is located partially below ground level. The women were at work in the kitchen with the windows closed when effects from the colorless and odorless gas began to get in its work. It was presumed that the difficulty had been eliminated and it was during the afternoon that the real serious trouble developed.

During the afternoon the wind was from such a direction that the draft was blown down the vent pipe from the gas water heater, this coupled with a defect in the vent pipe and also a bad adjustment of the gas burner brought quantities of the carbon monoxide gas into the cellar. Being heavier than air the gas dropped to the floor of the room and gradually crept up until it began to affect the women at work. The vent pipe which leads from the gas heater was near a window which had been opened and fumes from the vent were drawn back into the room.

Jesse Freese, who was on the premises, first observed the effects of the poison on the women and it was through his presence of mind in admitting additional air and summoning the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company emergency crew with an inhalator that serious injury was averted.

After giving first aid the more seriously affected women were removed to their homes and today all were back on the job with the exception of Mrs. Hill.

The defect in the vent has been corrected and the gas company men also corrected the defect in the burner which caused the excessive amount of carbon monoxide to form.

WALTER E. MITCHELL LEAVES ESTATE TO GRANDDAUGHTER

The will of Walter E. Mitchell, for many years proprietor of the Mitchell House, Kingston, who died in Middletown February 15, admitted to probate by Judge Arthur Taylor of Orange county, leaves his estate, estimated at $15,000, to a granddaughter, Marie A. Lockwood of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Lockwood was named executrix by the will, but since she is a minor the surrogate named Peter H. Mitchell of Middletown executor.

Victims of Hold-up Testify at Trial

Two witnesses were sworn Thursday in the Gonzalez robbery trial, both of the witnesses being victims of the hold-up and while one of the witnesses was able to identify both Joe and Prudencio Gonzalez, the other witness was able to identify only Prudencio Gonzalez as the man who visited the state road construction camp at Kerhonkson on October 14, 1931 and led a band of robbers who lined up the 30 or 40 men and robbed them of their cash. The hold-up took place at about 4:30 o'clock in the morning just as the camp was beginning to arouse and go ready for the day's work.

Quintanilla, one of the victims, told of having seen Prudencio Gonzalez two days prior at a neighboring camp and of later seeing him in conversation with the cook at the place which was held up and robbed. He made a positive identification of Prudencio as the man whom he had seen on both days despite the fact that on the morning of the hold-up Prudencio had a woman's silk stocking pulled over his head with two slits cut in it for his eyes. He described how the stocking was pulled down over the eyes and knotted behind but he said he was able to distinguish the features of Prudencio as the same man he had seen two days prior.

On cross-examination the witness was being questioned about Prudencio's alias, Red Rubio, when he made a voluntary answer which caused considerable comment between counsel.

"Isn't the name Rubio applied frequently to Spaniards, isn't that a common name among them like red head or red in our language?" asked counsel for the defense.

There was considerable discussion between the interpreter and the witness. There was comment over the discussion by counsel and Judge Traver with a smile replied:

"It takes them a long time sometimes to say yes or no."

The witness then replied:

"They know him (Prudencio) from making so many holes."

This answer was objected to as not responsive and counsel asked that it be stricken out.

On cross-examination Quintanilla said that Prudencio was the only man he recognized when the bandits entered the door and demanded that the men in the room put up their hands and line up against the wall, face toward the wall. All but one the witness said had his face covered.

"Rubio I recognized as the man I had seen two days before at the camp next door," replied the witness. He said Gonzalez had on a chocolate colored suit, a light shirt and black shoes on the day he first appeared there at the camp next door.

Quintanilla said that after the men had all been aroused from their beds upstairs, lined up against the wall and relieved of their funds the leader directed the men to go down in the cellar and remain there. The door was locked and someone told them not to move or they would receive a bullet in the body.

The next time the witness saw Rubio or Prudencio Gonzalez was in 1925 at Albany. It was in June. Prudencio was in a car with a police officer and Sergeant Lockhart and Casimiro Iglesias, another of the victims. At the time Quintanilla was in a pool room on Madison avenue when Iglesias came up and motioned for him to leave the place. On the pavement he said he saw the car with the officers and Prudencio and he immediately recognized Prudencio as the man who had stuck up the camp about four years prior.

He said no one said anything to him and no one asked him who the man was or told him but he recognized Prudencio. The witness said he had lived then and still lived at 83 Cherry street, Albany.

Defense counsel asked whether the witness had not on that occasion been asked whether he knew Prudencio Gonzalez and whether he had not answered, "I never saw him before." The witness said he never made that statement and had not been asked the question. "I knew him before they ever said anything to me," said Quintanilla.

Asked whether Sergeant Lockhart had not shown the witness pictures of Prudencio and also said "this is Gonzalez from West Virginia, the man who held you up," the witness said Sergeant Lockhart had shown him pictures later of other men but he did not recognize any of the pictures as those of men involved in the hold-up. He said Lockhart never said anything to him about the man in the car at Albany being Gonzalez. Witness said he knew the man as the one who robbed him at Kerhonkson before anything was said to him by anyone.

"Were you there at the police offices when they beat him up?" asked Murray for defense, referring to Prudencio. The witness said no they never beat up Gonzalez because the police officers were in another room at the time, the three Spaniards being in a separate room alone. He said he did not see anyone kick or beat up Gonzalez at Albany. The next time he saw Gonzalez was in Kingston at the office of the district attorney. First the witness said he never saw Gonzalez until week before last but later changed the statement and said that he had been in the district attorney's office in September, 1935, and had seen Prudencio there at that time when officers brought him in the office.

Casimiro Iglesias of Albany was the next witness called. He said he had been relieved of $175 at the time of the robbery.

Asked to point out if he could the man who took the money from him at Kerhonkson the witness pointed to Prudencio and said:

"It's that guy over there."

During his examination the witness made several amusing remarks. He was able to also identify Jose Gonzalez as another of the robbers.

Iglesias said that when the place was entered the robbers demanded that all of the men in the room stand with their hands up and face the wall. Others then went upstairs and ordered the men to "put on their pants" and come downstairs to be searched and lined up against the wall. The witness said he stood against the wall for some time and at one time addressed a remark to the bandits as to how long they intended to keep the men standing. He said when he was searched his tobacco pouch was seized by the bandit who made a nasty remark and threw the pouch on the floor. He described the dress of the men, one had a brown suit, one a gray suit and one or two wore black.

During the examination of Quintanilla he was asked at what camp he had first seen Red Rubio and the witness said it was at Raymon Aguda's camp. This camp adjoined the camp which was robbed. The witness said Aguda said that Prudencio was the man who stopped at his house two days before the robbery and drank a cup of coffee. At the time Aguda was at the store. The witness said he never said that he the witness, had seen Prudencio drinking coffee but that the statement had been made by Aguda.

The progress of the trial was slow due to the fact that it was necessary for most of the testimony to be given through an interpreter.

Said Dutcher Walked Into His Automobile

William Dutcher, 60, of Phoenix, is in the Kingston Hospital with injuries sustained Thursday evening about 9 o'clock at Broadway and St. James street when he was in collision with an automobile driven by W. Frank Davis of 34 East St. James street. Dutcher's condition today was reported as apparently fair.

Mr. Davis in reporting the accident to the police department said that he was driving over East St. James street and as the traffic light was green had started to turn into Broadway when Dutcher walked into the rear of his car and was knocked down. Mr. Davis said he picked Mr. Dutcher up and rushed him to the hospital.

Cornerstone Laying Sacred Heart School

It had been hoped that the public would be permitted to inspect the new Mother Cabrini School at Sacred Heart Orphanage, West Park, on the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone Sunday, but announcement is made that that will not be possible, as the floors are not yet dried sufficiently.

As announced the cornerstone will be laid by Mr. Henry O. Carroll of Newburgh, the sermon to be preached by Dean Stanley of Kingston.

NOT ON THE JOB

One of the important functions of the Board of Public Works is to keep the city streets in drivable and safe condition. With the rapid growth in the number of automobile owners, this function has become increasingly important until it ranks high in the duties of this board.

Lack of apparent interest to appeals of motorists in the city with regard to the conditions of various city streets has caused considerable comment among car drivers, who wonder why city streets have not been promptly repaired.

Such traffic arteries as Wall street, between Pearl street and Sahler's Sanitarium; and the northern section of Washington avenue have received little attention this spring, yet both are important streets near the business section of the city, and both are in bad condition.

The Board of Public Works seems to have turned its attention toward a critical study of the efficiency of the Works Progress Administration in this city. Be the WPA efficient or not, the job of the Board of Public Works is to care for the interests of the city and the general opinion prevails that more time might be spent on correcting conditions in Kingston and less on criticizing programs over which the board has little control. It would be the better course of the local board to clean its own house first and having thus set the example, attention might then well be turned toward deficiencies elsewhere.

THE "ABUNDANCE" PUZZLE.

Much of this "abundance" talk is attractive, but loose. Many people, thinking how pleasant it would be to have plenty of everything, don't realize the implications of the idea.
 It would be very fine, in a perfect world, to run agriculture and industry wide open, making unlimited quantities of things and providing all of us with everything we can think of to eat, drink, wear and otherwise use, at prices that we can all afford to pay. Theoretically it may seem possible. But we run into practical difficulties. Running wide open, we could produce far more. But could we distribute it?
 Or would we? The production-and-distribution system in this country, or any other capitalist country, is highly organized and highly capitalized, and the capital structure is pretty well solidified, and our whole economic process is geared to investment, interest and profit. What then? The blood of this system being private profit, things have to be sold at prices that will bring the required profit. And in all our experience, the maintenance of profits seems to have required the maintenance of prices at as high a level as the traffic would bear. The maintenance of price levels limits consuming power, holds back distribution and checks production. It is hard to imagine any way to run the economic system wide open, producing all we can and passing it all around, unless we were to scrap the capital structure, and abolish prices, profit and money, and give things away. And we're not likely to do that. Even Russia hasn't gone that far.

THE PROFESSORS' GATH

The Massachusetts legislature has refused to repeal the law enacted last year, requiring all teachers in schools and colleges to take an oath upholding the state and federal constitutions. The law has been opposed by a large number of college professors and presidents, on the ground that it is unnecessary and humiliating. "I can't understand that any American citizen would refuse to uphold the constitution,"

There can't be much mystery about it. The educators, apparently, feel that it's like making them stand up and swear that they're decent citizens. They resent the implied doubt of their patriotism. It is hard to see how a law like that can do much good. Anybody who intended to betray his country would probably rattle off that oath of allegiance without batting an eye.

PROKEN PAVEMENTS

The winter has been hard on roads, leaving a trail of devastation over the northern part of the country. Thousands of miles of pavements are ruined in New England,
 New York, Pennsylvania and the Middle West, with considerable damage also in states normally outside of the frost belt.

The extreme cold froze the ground in many states as deep as four feet.
 As a result, there was great damage which did not show until the ground thawed. Pavements not strongly built, with good foundations, went to pieces. Driving at present is difficult, and there is a vast amount of repair work to be done. Damages will run into scores of millions.
 There will be some gain, though,
 from the experience. Roadbuilders can tell, from the roads that stood the deep frost, how to build better hereafter. Foundations obviously must be deeper and stronger, and some materials are obviously better than others. The public itself learns along with the engineers.

OVERPROTECTING CHILD.

A father brought his 8 year old boy to a physician to be examined.
 After a careful examination, three small defects were pointed out to the father, but 'not within hearing distance of the child.

"Does your boy play outdoors?" the father was asked.

"Yes."

"With whom?"

"With my neighbor's little girls;
 they are great playmates."

"Does he play in the school yard?"

"No; he doesn't seem to like playing with boys much. They won't let him have his own way. In fact he seems to have a grudge all the time, and if he doesn't have his own way at home, he bursts into tears, and 'his mother has to comfort him.'"

"The physician kindly but firmly pointed out to the father that if his boy didn't play and mix with boys more, giving the other youngsters their due, and demanding his own and only his own, he would likely be a 'problem' youth and a problem man—a sorrow to himself and others."

The blame for this condition rests upon the parents, who in their love for the child are overcautious and the child becomes overprotected.

The child, he learns that he is so "precious" to his parents that he is the first sign of a sniffing nose, a cough, a lack of appetite, he becomes an object of great concern, and the household stops its regular routine to minister to his every need or desire.
 The thermometer is put into his mouth every hour or two, tempting dishes are placed before him, and books are brought or stories read to him by the doting mother.

Now if a child is really sick, it is a different matter; the supervision of a physician, proper food and thoughtful care are his due. But if every little ache, pain, scratch or bruise is magnified in importance by the mother or father or both, then the child is losing the chance to become a real man or woman.

If but little sympathy or attention is given to trifling ailments or complaints, the youngster is quickly over them, is soon back to school, and by learning that he can't put anything over on his parents develop-into a natural, normal, every-day youngster.

Gypsy Weather

By MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

SYNOPSIS: Dirk Joris, at dinner with the first old Joris relative on the Hudson, has heard Elinor Fleming break her engagement to his brother Rupert, because of Ru-pert's drinking. He has seen Ru-pert's sardonic manner, and knows it hides a far from sardonic reaction. Now he has taken Elinor home through the pouring rain—gypsy weather. And he must go on to a meeting with Elinor's cousin Isabel, over in New Jersey.

Chapter Three

DARK THOUGHTS.

"GOOD night, Dirk, dear," said Elinor.

"You'll be nice to Isabel?"

He smiled down at her. Need she be so urgent?

"It won't be hard," he answered.

She was always mentioning Isabel, always seeming a little anxious about her. Dirk had sometimes wor-dered why. Isabel was so entirely capable of looking out for herself.
 Tonight there dawned on him with a humorous sense of his own stupidity the fact that Elinor, having relinquished the Joris name, would like to see her cousin take it on.

Driving alone through the rain
 Dirk dealt with the idea of Isabel as a wife, put it from him, put from him, indeed, the idea of marriage, of taking any woman into Lowrie
 Woods while his brother was there.

There, too, was his first teacher, with cheeks like red apples, and humorous wrinkles around her brown bright eyes. She always spelled his name with a "c"—Dirck.

And, of course, there had been pale at college, and girls. There had been, and still was, Isabel. That he had never said a word of love to Isabel didn't mean that they weren't close.

And yet—close. Certainly the word must imply more than he had ever been to any one. Perhaps he was like his father, like Rupert.

Poor Rupert. Long engagements were the dickens.

DIRK rode through Yonkers into Manhattan, crossed the Hudson River by way of the George Washington bridge. He had promised Isabel and her guest, Natalie Page, to meet them at some foolishly tented show on the Jersey side.

Natalie was a bubbling person, just out of boarding-school, keen for adventure. She was leaving tomorrow, and tonight was her last chance to interview Madame Chowdhury, a Hindu prophetic traveling with the show.

Dirk felt out of the mood for Natalie and Madame Chowdhury.
 Freddy Nevis would be with the girls, he reflected. Why not miss the place? It would be easy enough with the rain and the scant directions he Dirk lifted the Chowdhury flap of Chowdhury's tent.

The thought, in the light of what Rupert would be like without Elinor, without the hope of Elinor, was impossible. Any wife of his—Dirk's—would have to live under the same roof with Rupert. Elinor must know this. What she did not know, perhaps, was what she had done to Rupert.

Dirk could not bear to think of the future for either Rupert or himself. They had never been close, had never been companions in any sense. Always there had been some separating barrier of temperament, greater than the ten years differences in their ages; but his life must go on in the shadow of Rupert's indefinitely now.

A year ago last June, just home from college, he had promised his father that he would not leave Rupert or Lowrie Wood.

"Not until Rupert and Elinor are married, at any rate. He ought not to be alone," his father had said. And Dirk had promised.

So, close or not, they would stay together.

HAD Rupert ever been close to any one, Dirk wondered, driving through the rain. To their mother who had died when the elder boy was twelve? Perhaps.

Had he even been close to Elinor?
 Had not Elinor failed to warm herself fully at that dark fire, burning though it must have been for her alone? Elinor was afraid. She was afraid of that dark fire that was Rupert, that fire that had gone a little mad this last year.

Others were afraid of Rupert, too.
 Underlings in Manhattan, small politicians here in the village—men who owed their jobs to his influence, or whose secrets he knew.

At home the servants feared him.
 Even their father had seemed at times afraid of Rupert, of the things Rupert might do.

And he—Dirk—had he ever been close to any one? Now and then to his father who, in his way, was almost as inaccessible as Rupert. And perhaps (Dirk smiled) to Genevieve, his one-time nursery governess, who was so patient and so pretty.

Dirk threw a rope to a circus lady, tomorrow.

Under the leadership of L. D. Sahler, Morning service at 10 o'clock. Dr.
 James Cantine will bring the message. All services standard time.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coleman of Mt. Vernon have been spending a few days at their summer home,
 "Pawsonkill Lodge," at Allamsville, and called on Mrs. Vina Crawford on Wednesday.

Services at the M. E. Church on Sunday will be as follows: Church School at 9 a. m. under the leadership of Oscar Wood. At 10 o'clock the pastor, the Rev. Newton Strickland, will give a sermon to the juniors which will be followed by the message of the morning.

Mrs. Vina Crawford was a guest

Experts Analyze
New Deal's Acts

Democratic N. Y. Times, in Editorial, Lauds Fact-Finding Group.

NEW YORK.—When the Republican National committee announced the formation of a staff of 50 economic experts to analyze the Roosevelt policies, the New York Times, an independent Democratic newspaper, declared in an editorial that "there was good reason for placing the assembling of facts and reasoning in the hands of other (than the New Deal) economists."

The Republican research department is headed by Dr. Otto G. Saxton, professor of business administration at Yale university. Dr. Saxton voted for Roosevelt in 1932 "to his regret," and says that many of his associates in the fact-finding work at the G. O. P.
 Washington headquarters have been life-long Democrats.

Step "Entirely Logical."
 The Times' editorial, entitled "Campaign Research," read in part as follows:

"That the Republican National Committee should, according to the announcement of Chairman Fletcher, have organized a committee of economists to 'analyze the New Deal,' to criticize, in the light of economic science, the principles or programs of action adopted by the present Administration, is in many respects entirely logical. The Administration's concrete policies, in the field not only of taxation and Government finance, but of currency, agriculture, labor and social problems, have been pursued under the inspiration of professional experts advocating ideas or theories of their own, often departing widely from the opinions of other experts in the same fields. When it should become the duty of the opposition party, in the course of the Presidential campaign, to criticize or attack these executive policies, or any of them, there was good reason for placing the assembling of facts and reasoning in the hands of other trained economists. A solid basis for argument would be provided by this 'Research Division' of the national committee. This should be a welcome contribution to serious discussion of such policies, instead of mere platform denunciation and recrimination.

Voting Public Is Judge.

"To what extent the work of the economic committee will contribute definitely to the formulation of public opinion on these questions and to the determination of political action is perhaps more debatable. The term 'Brain Trust,' used ever since the inauguration of 1933 to describe the experts whose judgment the Administration had adopted, has not been employed very respectfully by the community at large, and newspaper columns have at once applied to the proposed Republican commission the title of 'Republican Brain Trust.' Furthermore, the theories of the Administration Brain Trust have been more or less obscured by the concrete developments following application of their ideas in legislative or administrative practice. It will remain to be seen how far the general voting public is interested primarily in the economic facts underlying such governmental action."

Dr. Saxton, in explanation of his department, stressed the point that its purpose is "simply to assemble information which is accurate and truthful and make it available to the Republican party." Dr. Saxton said further:

"We have no desire (nor would we be permitted) to impose any pet theory or hobby of our own upon the Republican party. When we have established the facts—our job is done.
 If this is a trust, it is a Common Sense Trust."

Biggest British Liners BEAR QUEEN'S NAMES

London (AP)—Britain's two might-est liners bear the names of queens.

The Queen Mary is the first large British liner to be named for a living queen, but the Berengaria, runner-up in size, was named for the wife of Richard the Lion Hearted, who reigned from 1157 to 1199.

When the $2,600-ton German liner Imperator became British property after the World War, it was decided to rechristen her in honor of a British queen. As the names of the Cunard liners traditionally ended in "ia," officials had to go all the way back to Queen Berengaria to find a fitting title.

THEY SHOULDN'T HAVE TO WALK VERY FAR

TALKS TO PARENTS

Point Of View
 By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

There are and always have been varying theories about play, its origin and purpose. There is, for example, the surplus energy theory, which makes play a by-product of the child's life, and a wasteful one, which must gradually be absorbed into useful channels.

Others look on play as a kind of hang-over from the ways of early man, a recapitulation of his various phases from earliest times. A third school regards play as a preparation for the important work of life. The child in his play is exercising brain and muscle and, from the experience of his play time, choosing what his life's work shall be.

Each of these and almost all the other theories proposed, presupposes a difference between work and play. They claim that for children play may be very essential, but that the sooner they give up the futile waste of energy and settle down to the serious business of life, the better. Some play, of course, will always be necessary for recreation.

What these theorists fail to perceive is that what is play to one man is work to another. The small boy who is called 1. from the baseball field to work may one day go out to the diamond to earn a living. The child who is discouraged from senseless scribbling may one day use that scribbling as a means of livelihood.
 One child does mathematics as a pastime, another reads French in his spare moments. Some girls sew for recreation, others will not even mend a dress.

Life is activity, and activity is play or work according to whether or not one is doing what one wants to do. It is a question of attitude, and if children are from the outset trained to this point of view they may be able to keep a spirit of youth and play rather than drudgery.

Events Around The Empire State

Owning, N. Y., April 24 (P).—Rick Bukrich, 43, of Rochester, died last night for the murder of Michael George in Monroe county a year ago. Bukrich was convicted of the slaying in an attempt to collect insurance. He called himself the prison's "forgotten man," since a sister and his lawyer were his only visitors during six months in the death house.

Albany, N. Y., April 24 (P).—Some work in the men's and boys' outer clothing industry was prohibited today by State Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews. Merchant and custom tailoring establishments are exempt from the order.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 24 (P).—Dr. George Lyman Kittredge, American authority on Shakespeare, will succeed Dr. Charles A. Beard, historian, as honorary chancellor of Union College for 1936. President Dixon Ryan Fox announced today. Dr. Kittredge, Gurney Professor of English Literature at Harvard, is the 48th honorary chancellor to serve since 1873.

Albany, N. Y., April 24 (P).—Deputy Conservation Commissioner John T. Gibbs signed an order discontinuing criminal action today after the Golden Bridge Hounds Club had settled at $5,000 for illegal killing of 40 deer.

Gibbs said Fraser M. Horn, New York, attorney, negotiated for the settlement in behalf of socially prominent club members. Another department official, who insisted on remaining anonymous, said the deer were slain during the closed season because they interfered with fox hunting.

Rochester, N. Y., April 24 (P).—Edward N. Scheiberling of Albany, New York state commander, said today that the American Legion has no quarrel with youthful "strikers" against war. Scheiberling, here on his official visit to the seventh district legion unit, declared that the student peace movements "never will achieve as much toward discouraging war as will the American Legion's pending universal draft legislation."

Import Increase Heavy
Washington, April 24 (P).—A heavy increase in the American import trade, including a wide range of agricultural products, was reported today by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in a review of this branch of trade for 1935. The foreign commerce section of the chamber attributed the increases to "non-resort by this country to wide arbitrary controls of import trade, returning domestic industrial activity, and the scarcity and high price levels of some foodstuffs."

To Investigate Man's Death
Hollywood, Calif., April 24 (P).—The coroner's office ordered an investigation today of the death of one man and serious injury to another when a construction crane at Paramount studio swung into contact with a 33,000-volt power line. The accident occurred within a few yards of where Bing Crosby, George Raft and Dolores Costello Barrymore were working yesterday. James R. Reeves, 30, a steel company employee, was killed by the electrical charge. James R. Hayden, 45, suffered burned hands.

"The Creation" to Be Presented Here

"The Creation," one of the greatest of all oratorios, will be presented by the Kingston Choristers of the Y. W. C. A. augmented by a male chorus on Wednesday, April 29, at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium of St. James M. E. Church, under the direction of Harry P. Dodge.

The oratorio, which was composed by Haydn, was finished when he was 57 years old, and was termed by the composer himself as the greatest work of his life. While in England he had read and been profoundly impressed with Milton's "Paradise Lost," and had also heard and been enthusiastic over Handel's work. As a result of these influences he began "The Creation" which shows quite definite traces of Handel's style, spending two years in the writing of it, saying, "I spent much time on it because I intend it to last a long time." It was first performed in 1799 and met with immediate success.

As its name suggests, the oratorio represents the creation, as related in the Book of Genesis. Haydn seems at his best when delineating nature and although written in his 55th year, the work is full of the vigor and triumph of youth.

Some of the better known numbers are "Rolling in the Foaming Billows," an aria for bass; "With Verdure Clad," an aria for soprano; and the choruses, "The Heavens are Telling," and "Achieved is the Glorious Work."

It is seldom that one has an opportunity of hearing one of the great oratorios presented by a mixed chorus, and those who heard Mendelssohn's "Elijah" which the club gave last spring, will find "The Creation" to be of the same high calibre.

The public is cordially invited to attend. No admission fee will be charged but a silver offering will be taken.

CHEROKEE INDIANS GO WEST FOR TEXAS CENTENNIAL

Dallas (AP)—In 1836 the Cherokee Indians refused to move west to Oklahoma from the Tennessee hills at the government's request and stood by their guns until they were given a reservation in North Carolina.

No white descendants are getting ready to move west voluntarily. They are coming to the Texas centennial exposition to participate in the national folk festival June 14 to 21.

FLOOD CONTROL 'AIRCADE' STARTS JOURNEY

Here is the scene at Cincinnati just before the start of a score of leaders on a nine-state tour to publicize their campaign for an $85,000,000 flood control project. They will tour by plane, expounding their program in the various states to promote congressional backing for their plan. (Associated Press Photo)

COLOR REPLACES WHITE IN BATHROOM FIXTURES

Chicago (AP)—The bathroom, blossoming out in gay colors and streamlined fixtures, is making a serious bid to become the most beautiful room in a house.

White fixtures, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries bureau, have given way to green, ivory, yellow, blue and pink enamel.

Available for the spring modernizing project, says the bureau, are complete color ensembles harmonizing perfectly in design. These are matched sets of fixtures made to "go together." They reflect the modern trend toward unity in home decorating.

Also available are many new and strikingly beautiful wall and floor materials which serve as a background for the modern fixtures. These new and inexpensive materials are washable and can be kept as clean as the fixtures themselves.

Mother of Pearl

The mother of pearl of commerce is the inner portion of the shells of certain large marine bivalve mollusks—oysters and their relatives. Like pearls themselves, it is made up of a secretion of the oyster, built up layer by layer. The shells are collected chiefly in the tropical seas, but some are produced in inland waters of the United States, Germany, China, Russia and a few other countries.

The Champagne Region

In France the great region for sparkling wines is what is known as the champagne region, and all wines made in these departments of the Marne are entitled under the French law to bear the word "champagne." Sparkling wines in other parts of France are not permitted to bear it. The term champagne has been used in many countries improperly, but broadly to designate a sparkling wine.

Amoeba Too Small to See

The amoeba is found in shallow, stagnant water, but you will not see it with the naked eye because it is too small. It has no limbs, no mouth, yet it lives, says a writer in The Bites Magazine. It consists of just one cell. This cell changes its shape when it is active and, of course, as it grows larger. To grow, it takes in nourishment from the water in which it lives, but as it has no mouth it has to draw in its food through its own surface. When it is not getting enough food, it does a very strange thing; it tears itself in two and becomes two cells, so that there is more surface through which to draw food.

MODENA

Modena, April 23—The people of Modena and Clontondale regret the departure of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Shea, who have been residents of this village since Dr. Shea has been in charge of the associate pastorates mentioned above. Dr. Shea took charge here after the death of the late Rev. Austin Vradenburg, and occupied the pulpit so satisfactorily, until conference appointment were made, when the Rev. Philip Soldor was appointed as minister in the Modena-Clontondale charge. A farewell party was given Dr. and Mrs. Shea in the Methodist parsonage, Tuesday evening, by their many friends, whom they have made since their residence here.

Mrs. George Mathiesen has returned home from New York city. Harcourt Cosman of Middlehope was a caller on relatives here, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Thomas and sons have returned home from a trip to Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Harry Roosa and daughter, June, were visitors of Mrs. George Mathiesen and daughter, Alma, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Carver of Newburgh visited Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and son, Myron, of Washington, D. C., were recent guests of Mrs. Wheeler's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Shea.

Earl McCrary and family have moved from Modena to Springtown.

As Teachers' Conference was in session Monday, scholars were granted another day to the Easter vacation.

The Hyatt family attended the Hyatt-Deyo wedding at Milton recently.

Richard Coy, Sr., will be caretaker of the Modena Rural cemetery during the present season.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wager and son, Lester, were in Kingston, Tuesday.

Archie Mackey has employment with Joseph Hasbrouck.

L. Herring of Ulster Park, was a caller here Monday.

First "Neuter" Dies

Canyon, Texas (AP)—W. F. Heller, 93, who died here recently, was the first "neuter"—bane of old-time cattlemen—in this part of the Panhandle of Texas. He came here in 1886, and for two years killed his land with his rifle within reach because ranchers actively opposed turning the range into farms.

India's Last British Viceroy Must Erase Own High Rank

New Delhi, India (AP).—The Marquess of Linlithgow, succeeding Lord Willingdon as viceroy of India, is in the opinion of many, shouldering the most difficult task any subject of the British crown has had to face within the empire for 50 years.

The great Indian sub-continent will have to be changed by him from an autocratically governed British possession under a viceroy into an autonomous federation in which the empire will be represented by a governor general.

No man, Britishers here think, could do the job better. Lord Linlithgow was chairman of the parliamentary committee that shaped the autonomy-giving constitution for India in 1933.

In Father's Footsteps.

Previous wide experience of India's intricate problems came to him through travel, and as chairman of the royal commission on Indian agriculture, 1926-28.

Actually, inaugurating constitutions is becoming a Linlithgow family job. The marquess's father, John Adrian Louis Hope, set the present Australian constitution working as governor general of the commonwealth 1900-02.

Born 48 years ago, Victor Alexander John Hope, of Hopetoun House, Linlithgowshire, is head of the Scots clan of the Hopes.

There are many of them. The Hopetoun parson once droned in his sermon, "The world is full of blasted hopes," just as the marquess, his wife, their twin sons and three daughters fled into the family pew under the pulpit.

Expects Thrilling Experience.

Tall, debonair and commanding, he is a "strong man," and his policy is always one of action.

His appointment has been widely welcomed in India. The Indian congress organ, the "National Call," recognized Linlithgow was responsible for the report of the Indian agriculture commission "which won for him the admiration of the Indian people." He had traveled 18,000 miles on a personal tour of inspection before he signed it.

He expects a thrilling time during his term of office. "Make no mistake about it," he said recently, "the rural masses of India, for so many centuries unchanging, are at last on the move."

Linlithgow has been described as one of Britain's "most solemn peers," but his looks belie him. In the World War he delighted several privates serving under him by performing an impromptu apache dance.

On another occasion in the officers' mess, he impersonated a madman at a children's party, and often could be heard all over divisional headquarters doing full justice to tenor arias from Gilbert and Sullivan operas.

Unlucky Sneeze Unmasks Driver

Warsaw (AP).—A sneeze at the wrong moment, plus an alert traffic policeman, ruined the act for 15-year-old Joseph Telesman.

Determined to drive his father's car, Joseph purchased a false moustache which he thought would make him look at least 17, the age limit for driving.

Everything went well until an unsuspecting traffic policeman signalled a halt and Joseph sneezed right in front of him.

The glue gave way and the moustache fell in his lap. Joseph's father paid the fine.

ASHOKAN

Ashokan, April 24.—Robert Adelt is confined to his home with a broken arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haver and daughter, Florence of Samsonville, and Miss Mildred Traver of Palen-town, were callers here Saturday.

SHORT CROP TALK INCREASES WHEAT PRICE IN FRANCE

Paris (AP).—France, which normally produces just enough wheat to supply bread for her 40,000,000 citizens, may have to import part of her needs next year, for both the wheat carry-over and crop forecasts are low.

The mild and extremely wet winter, unfavorable for winter wheat, which comprises the greater part of the country's crop, is expected by agricultural forecasters to reduce the total yield even below last year's low output of 75,000,000 quintals (about 278,000,000 bushels). A 75,000,000-quintal crop is probable.

Wheat prices, no longer directly regulated by law, have been rising rapidly in anticipation of the shortage. The price jumped from 70 francs a quintal last August to 104 francs a quintal—the equivalent of $1.88 a bushel—in March.

Trade circles regard it unlikely that the United States will get any of the business if it is necessary to import wheat.

MANDARIN GARB BANNED FOR CHINESE OFFICIALS

Nanking (AP).—The long gown and jacket which have been the distinguishing apparel of Chinese scholars and gentlemen for centuries, are to be forbidden to all government officials of high rank.

In the belief that skirts make for efficiency and give the wearer subconscious encouragement toward inactivity, the Chinese government has ordered its officials to wear western styled suits or the semi-military uniform popularized by modern China's hero Sun Yat-sen.

In summer these uniforms must be light yellow, and in winter dark blue.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN WANTS TO VISIT OLD FARM IN BRONX

Asheville, N. C. (AP).—Ninety-six-year-old L. P. Austin would like to visit the Bronx borough, New York city—to see how the old family farm site has changed.

The Union army veteran was reared on his father's 104-acre farm in what is now known as the Bronx, he says.

ON THE POLITICAL FRONT

JOUETT SHOUSE

(By The Associated Press)

Jouett Shouse, once chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, is now one of the darker clouds on his party's horizon.

He directs the American Liberty League which has pamphlets ready for any congressional aspirant who is running against an ardent "new dealer".

Shouse, a one-time editor, has final say on the subject matter of those pamphlets and some of the titles have been, "Dangerous Experimentation", "Legislation by Coercion or Constitution", and "Expanding Bureaucracy".

Shouse has 25,000 contributors to the League behind him, including the Du Pont family of Delaware.

He has been twice a member of congress, and he was president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Spain's Premier Called Last Bulwark Against Red Drive on Republicanism

Madrid, (AP)—Manuel Azana, Spain's stocky, thick-set premier, is being called Spain's chief bulwark against revolutionary Socialism and Communism.

Head of a leftist government that depends in great part on those very forces for support, his job daily increases in complexity, as members of his coalition clash in bloody strife with fascists of the extreme right.

With the old monarchist parties in a state of political impotency, the Communists and revolutionary Socialists have become the new rivals to the republican system.

Alarmed To Kerenky. Premier Azana sometimes has been called the Kerenky of the Spanish Revolution, for many predict that after him will come Communism as it did in Russia. His closest friends don't like the comparison and point out wide differences in the character of the two men.

The new premier is not content with mere oratory. A month after the new government had been formed he had yet to make his first speech. Instead he had been plodding along cementing the structure of the new government, giving the extremists a certain amount of rope to let off the steam of the election victory jubilation, but stepping in when the situation developed violence.

Land Division Under Way. That he can be hard when he feels the necessity is generally conceded. In fact one of the rightist charges against him in the election campaign was that his 1933 government had shown unnecessary brutality in putting down an anarchist uprising. One of the main jobs that Premier

Azana has been pushing a division of Spain's large estates among the peasant farmers. The law for the division of these estates was adopted several years ago but was allowed to slumber through the rightist regimes of 1934 and 1935. This law has again been put into full operation and thousands of farm workers are being assigned small tracts weekly.

In some of the provinces impatient workers have taken lands or staked out claims on their own hook. This was particularly true in the province of Badajoz where agricultural laborers flocked out of their villages and took possession of estates under divisions worked out by their own organizations. Own Peasant Holders Owners.

The government, insisting that the lands must be divided according to law, is faced by the old tradition that says: "Get the peasants on the land and nothing will get them off."

One of the main complaints of dispossessed proprietors has been that compensation granted them has been far below the actual value of the land.

The valuation is worked out on the basis of the taxes paid and the government answer has been that if proprietors for years have been defrauding the government by paying only absurdly low taxes, the fault for present low values is their own.

An old bachelor friend tells us that either the girls in this town are getting prettier every year or his eyesight is getting poorer.

German Quest For Pedigrees Swamps Nazis

By J. A. BOUMAN
Berlin (AP)—The government department for family research (Slippenforschung) has sent out a public SOS, to the effect: "Please stop asking questions. We are snowed under."

Dr. Kurt Mayer, chief of the department, states in a printed appeal that applications for information had risen from 100 a month in 1934 to 2,200 a month, and that his staff cannot cope with more.

Search For Grandfathers. When the Nazi authorities began putting into effect their pedigree requirements, they could hardly have realized that so many thousands would not be able, despite frantic search, to trace all four paternal and maternal grandparents, let alone remote ancestors.

In countless cases, old birth and marriage certificates have been lost; church registers either were incomplete or had been destroyed by fire or otherwise, and many people were obliged to offer rewards to anyone who could help produce proof of ancestry.

While "minor" ancestry papers, embracing grandparents only, were the cause of much worry, the "major" documents, going back to 1800 and essential for Nazi party membership or farm ownership, gave still more headaches.

Mental Kinks Now Traced. Meanwhile, hereditary character research, conducted scientifically, is in full swing.

Dr. Stunz, of the Munich Institute of Psychiatry, claims "the family character" can be established, distinction being made between biologically rooted family traits, which are inheritable, and "accidental kinks" which are unaccountable.

Then Professor Burger, Prinz of Leipzig finds there are means to discover the existence of mental defects early in life, and he urges early sterilization in those cases.

A Berlin woman professor, Emmy Stein, goes further and has set up a theory that "mutations," that is, artificial changes of hereditary qualities, can be brought about by the application of certain rays.

Title Bogs Yield Bronze Belles. Titles, F. S. R. R. (AP)—Archaeologists, exploring swamps in western Georgia, have examined 500 ancient burial mounds, recovering tools of the bronze age which, in one instance, were only three feet underground.

Easy Applique Makes a May Basket Gay

PATTERN 5577

Each will have a May Basket at his place when the table's laid with this daintily appliqued cloth. See how effective so simple a decoration can be? How easy, too, for you're but to cut simple patches from your gayest cotton scraps, apply them to scarf, cloth, pillow or towel, and outline the intended edges with cotton floss. You'll achieve an unusual effect by letting the basket form the corner.

In pattern 5577 you will find a transfer pattern of two 8x5 1/2 inch baskets, two 5 1/2 x 5 1/2 inch baskets, two and two reverse 4x4 1/2 inch corners and pattern pieces for applique patches; instructions for doing applique; suggestions for using the motifs; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 253 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Wash frock time will soon be in full swing with the warm weather season close at hand. Market showings are already bidding for attention with captivating collections of newly styled frocks in linens and cottons—sheer voiles, cotton laces, piques, organdies and novelty sheers. Many of the new styles are featured in novel two-piece, tuck-in versions that revive memories of the "shirt-waist and skirt" era.

Tailored themes predominate with bolish collars and neck bows. Tucks are much used in bodices and sleeves details. Back buttoned bodices are another important note and some show two-way styling, being convertible into an open unbuttoned if desired.

A most attractive two-piece, tuck-in model is pictured here—it is fashioned of pastel colored linen with tucks performing the principal trimming role. The front bodice is tucked in squares to form a vestee effect. Collar and cuffs also are tucked and a white bow at the throat softens the neckline. The blouse fastens down the back with pearl buttons and its plainly tailored skirt uses kick pleats at back for hemline width.

The favored colors in plain frocks of this type include orchid, light blue, maize, rose, natural, flesh, pink and all white.

"Gifted" Children Grow Dull With Age

Evanson, Ill., April 24 (AP)—The personal histories of 50 child prodigies of ten years ago were recited to the Northwestern Psychological Association convention today as evidence that "gifted" children grow duller as they grow up.

The budding genius flowered in most cases into a conventional pattern with no qualifications or desire for leadership. Prof. Paul A. Witte of Northwestern University reported. Each of the 50 subjects of the experiment rated intelligence quotients of 149 plus in 1924-25.

After ten years, the professor listed these points in the prodigies' favor:

Their educational attainment continued higher than those of their fellows.

Their physical growth and vigor was superior.

They rated "somewhat" higher in character traits.

Despite these things, Prof. Witte asserted, "there appears to be little evidence that creative intelligence is better developed or displayed in extraordinary degree."

At last, he said, were "homes and schools which are essentially standardized."

Sabbats, Wooden Shoes

Sabbats, or wooden shoes, are largely worn by the peasantry of France, Belgium, Holland and some other parts of Europe. They are especially useful in wet weather and in moist places generally, being well adapted to preserve the feet from damp. In some parts of England, as in Lancashire, shoes with thick wooden soles, but with leather uppers and uppers, are worn by most of the artisan class.

Before his marriage to Venita Varden Jack Oakie was reported engaged to more actresses than any other actor in Hollywood.

WHAT YOU EAT HAS A LOT TO DO WITH HOW YOU FEEL

Correction of Constipation* Is Often a Matter of Menus

For years, the medical profession has insisted that proper diet is more effective in promoting health than the indiscriminate use of patent medicines. Today, they are seeing their teachings bear fruit.

For instance, millions of families have learned that common constipation is largely due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. Many of them correct this condition by the regular use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

This delicious cereal supplies generous "bulk" in effective form. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently this clears out the intestinal wastes.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and contains iron. It may be served as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked into tempting muffins, breads, etc.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN oftener. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all"—but it does correct common constipation. It is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company, sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Home Institute WARNINGS IN DREAMS

Dropping off pleasantly to sleep and waking up in terror—that has been Kathleen's experience lately. The first three times she had the dream she couldn't remember it when she woke up. Then, as it kept returning in her sleep, it grew clearer.

"I was standing on a high cliff looking at a fine view," she said. "Then I stepped to the edge to look down into the ravine, and I felt myself slipping, falling down into nothingness."

The dream puzzles her. But it need not. That dream is just conscience and common sense on the job, warning her of dangers. The Bible says that God speaks to man in dreams and "keepeth back his soul from the pit." Modern psychology agrees. From our unconscious mind we receive messages in sleep to which we prefer to be deaf when awake.

Kathleen has recently been receiving attentions from a young man of dubious reputation. She knows she ought to break the affair off short. Why risk a fall from her own standards, from the approval of her friends and family? That is the question her dream is asking her.

Dreams have to be read just as a foreign language is translated. Those you forget, or the parts you forget, are the most important. Learn how to sift out the important meaning from the seeming nonsense of dreams. Our 40-page illustrated booklet tells how a noted psychoanalyst deals with dreams. Work with facts and science, not with superstitions and folklore.

ROCHESTER CANINE, "REX," HONORED FOR HIS DEVOTION.

Rochester, N. Y., April 24 (AP).—Rex, Rochester's canine first citizen, romped with his youthful mistress today, with only a bronze medal swinging from his collar to testify that 200 members of the city's Antivivisection Society gathered last night to honor him.

The big German shepherd, honored for an outstanding exhibition of devotion to his mistress, Arlene Bismarck, 2 was showered with gifts of dog biscuit, collars and dog soap last night, but failed to rise to any heights of oratorical barking.

Rex left it to the society members to eulogize his praises and this they did in glowing terms.

Rex's exhibition of devotion, occurred last January when his little mistress wandered away from home on a near-zero day. He followed her until searching police located them and defied the officers to take her away.

Not until he had seen the child reunited with her mother, did he cease his attempts to attack the police, whom he regarded as intruders.

Cosmic Rays Cosmic rays, states a writer in the New York Times, can pass through many feet of lead. They have been detected even in deep mines and at the bottoms of lakes 750 feet deep. Like the X-rays and the gamma rays they ionize. Lastly, their strength increases with altitude. On the tops of mountains they are especially strong.

More Indictments in Wendel Case Likely, Parker's Son Is Named

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 24 (AP).—The possibility of additional indictments was indicated today in the kidnapping of Paul H. Wendel, whose re-arrested confession of the Lindbergh kidnapping caused a three-day delay in the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

With five men named in true bills yesterday, District Attorney William P. N. Googhan said the additional indictments might be forthcoming against "persons not within the jurisdiction of Kings county (Brooklyn)." He refused to amplify the remark.

The indictments, charging kidnapping and second degree assault, were against Ellis H. Parker, Jr., son of a New Jersey detective who had been prominent in the later phases of the Lindbergh case; Martin Schlossman and Harry Bleefeld, now in custody in Brooklyn; and Harry Welles and Murray Bleefeld, at large despite a search in several states.

Assistant District Attorney Francis Madden and several detectives delivered a warrant for the arrest of the younger Parker to New Jersey state police last night.

Harry Bleefeld, 61, is the owner of the Brooklyn house in which Wendel said a gang of men held him a prisoner for 10 days and tortured him until he signed the "confession."

Wendel later was taken to the home of Ellis H. Parker, Sr., at Mount Holly, N. J., and then to a sanitarium.

STRANGE MALADY Baffles SCHOOL DOCTORS IN GEORGIA.

Columbus, Ga., April 24 (AP).—Physicians, psychologists and school authorities were baffled today by the strange malady which struck 19 pupils and teacher almost simultaneously at a school here.

Theories of mass hysteria, food or gas poisoning all were discredited in part at least, by extensive investigation of the weird phenomenon and no positive cause was discovered in their stead.

Within the space of a few minutes Wednesday one child in the school yard and the others with the teacher on a second floor of the East Highlands grammar school, became suddenly and violently ill. Many fainted. They recovered quickly.

Junior Curry, one of the students affected, said "I smelled something and then I turned blind." He could not describe the smell.

Devote Killing Officers.
Baton Rouge, La., April 24 (AP).—Walter Johnson, 48-year-old farmer, spirited away from threatening crowds in two cities after he was wounded in a gun battle that led to his capture, denied today he killed two officers in a cattle dipping feud. Johnson was shot and slightly wounded at his home near Collax last night after he had been hunted for two days for the slaying of Sheriff W. L. Nugent and Deputy D. L. Brunson.

Program for the Girl Reserve Show

A most attractive program has been announced for the Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserve Show to be presented at the Municipal Auditorium on this Saturday afternoon at 2:30. The program is under the direction of Miss Otilia Riccobono and the theme of the show is based upon a "Book Shop" with the dances and drills suggestive of well-known stories.

The program is as follows:
Opening chorus: Stop at the Book Shop with drill of "Books."
"The Jockeys," duet dance, Marion Bartlett and Mildred Reed, and jockey dance.

"The Magic Carpet," dances by Veiled Ladies and Cymbalists.

"Hans Brinker," Dutch clog dance and Skaters' drill.

Specialty: "The Kentuckyans," hill-billy act. Dance, Miss Ruth Britt and Jean Wright. Comedy songs, Miss Wanda Watrous. Old fashioned square dances.

"William Tell," Swiss dance. "Treasure Island," hula-hula dance; tap trio, Florence Rice, Hilda Rice, Shirley Sherry; Pirate and Treasure dances.

"Strange Interlude," Animal Act with Elephants, Giraffe, Horses, Lions.

"The Toy Shop," Shop Keeper, Miss Betty Entrott; Jazz Doll dance, Miss Mathilda Garber; Doll Drill.

"In a Chinese Garden," soloist, Miss Dorothea Groves; Chinese dance by Tri Hi girls.

"Harlem Nights," solo tap, Osi Mae Tate; "Trunkin'" dance, Elnora Broadhead, Hazel Morton, Marjorie Morton, Jeanette Ray; tap chorus by Cheerio girls.

"The Woman in the Shoe," by 30 Blue Birds. "Woman," Miss Dorothea Groves; tap group, Butterflies, Bees, Flowers, Children of the Shoe. Solo dance, Anna Marie Manfro; song, Winifred Kimball.

"Sailor Maids," solo dance, Miss Ruth Britt; Sailor dance, Live Y-girls; solo dancer, Miss Rose Ward. "Twinkletoes," Miss Maybel Brewster.

"Three Musketeers," fencing drill. Tri Hi girls. Ensemble in finale.

Xenia, O., was completely surrounded by toll gates 60 years ago, and one had to pay three cents to enter or leave the town.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Some tap for fun, some tap for work, and some just because everybody else is tapping.

But Hollywood is tap-tapping its way to stardom and grace. On the heels — or should it be toes? — of the tap-dancing cycle in films, the excitement spread from the people who make a business of it to the people who only want to learn.

Not everybody can dance like Fred Astaire, Eleanor Powell, Bill Robinson, Ruby Keeler or Eleanor Whitney, but everybody — so it seems to Dave Gould, dance instructor at Metro — can try and does.

May Robson Prances

Since Eleanor Powell came on the lot and made a hit, Gould's classes have multiplied. His latest pupil is May Robson, who will be 71 this month (April 19) and thinks nothing of being assigned a tap dance for her new film, "Gram." Gould already has taught her a time step, difficult preliminary to other tapping achievement.

It is a film role that brings the venerable May to class. But then, says Gould, that is how many of his regular pupils get the dancing fever. They learn a few steps for a picture, and then they're "off to Buffalo."

Gould's youngest pupil is Juanita Quigley, 4, who has been studying two years already. Rosalind Russell, an interested student, practices in spare time. Louis Hayward took it up to improve footwork in his boxing hobby. Joan Crawford learned to dance long ago, but when she thought she was to dance opposite Clifton Webb in a movie, she went to work with serious intent. The picture was called off, but Joan still dances.

Dance For Poise

Marion Talley, the opera star, who had never danced in her life, learned the ballroom type during her long idleness under contract at the studio.

All newcomers, of course, are expected to report for tap-dance lessons regularly. It's supposed to enhance their poise, attractiveness, and health, besides preparing them for possible dancing roles.

Stenographers, secretaries, executives as well as stars are learning the intricacies. Exercise, fun, waistline preserver—whatever they call it, they dance.

No spy reports, as yet, that Louis B. Mayer, the rotund studio chief, has abandoned the rumba for tapping.

But that may come in time.

$3,532 Reported In Y. M. C. A. Drive

Thursday evening at the second report meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Financial Drive held at the "Y," the workers reported a total of $1,771 for the second day of the campaign which with Wednesday's report of $1,761 brings the total to $3,532 for the campaign to date. At the report meeting, a dinner was served to the workers and several speakers were heard. Another report meeting will be held at the "Y" this evening at 6:26.

General Chairman Clarence Dumm presided at last night's meeting. The guest speaker of the evening was the Rev. A. G. Carroll, pastor of the St. James M. E. Church. A surprise speaker, Leslie J. Tompkins of the New York state Y. M. C. A. staff, also addressed the workers. Both speakers were enthusiastically received.

At last night's meeting, the Giants turned in 109 pledges amounting to $627.50. The Cubs turned in 94 pledges amounting to $409.52. The Pirates turned in 34 pledges amounting to $104. The Cardinals turned in 62 pledges amounting to $326.50. The Initial Gifts Committee handed in 34 pledges amounting to $2,055 which brought the total for the day to $1,771 and for the campaign to date $3,532. The Giants are still in the lead for the league pennant, having two runs, one man each on second and third base and seven men on first base. The Cubs are in second place with nine men on first base and one on second base. The Cardinals are third with three men on first, one on second and one run. The Pirates are in the cellar with one man on first base. The third report meeting of the campaign will be held this evening at the "Y" at 6:26, with dinner being served to the workers at this time. The Rev. Roscoe Strivings of Stone Ridge will be the speaker of the evening. All workers are asked to make a special effort to be present.

Still undaunted, Representative Zioncheck of Washington state is pictured as his busy day with the law in Washington, D. C., ended abruptly with his incarceration behind jail bars. Hailed to court on a speeding charge, his activities included two scuffles with the police—one of them in court—and a visit to the house guardroom. He's shown shortly before Chairman O'Connor of the house ways and means committee freed him by paying $45 in fines. (Associated Press Photo)

Brevity Derby Favorite

New York, April 24 (AP)—The boys who ride 'em favor Brevity to win the Kentucky Derby but by no such margin as the trainers gave the J. E. Widener colt. Five of 12 jockeys, many of whom will ride in the race, selected Brevity in the Associated Press' annual poll of the country's leading riders. The trainers voted 7 to 5 for the future book favorite.

PHYSICIAN WALKS TO SAFETY AFTER TEN DAYS IN LIVING TOMB

SCADDING BROUGHT TO SAFETY ON STRETCHER

Alfred Scadding, too weak to walk, is shown on a specially constructed stretcher as he was brought from the living tomb of the Moose River gold mine where he was trapped for ten days and nights. A second companion was dead, while the third, Dr. D. E. Robertson, had walked to safety a short while before. (Associated Press Photo.)

San Jose, Calif., April 24 (AP)—A bearded, camera-shy man faced a murder charge today for answering the ring of a bell with a shotgun blast. Peter Voss, 35, was driving his home-made covered wagon about a highway yesterday when Dr. Jasper Stettin, 31, a dentist with a photograph for a hobby, started his car to get the picture and paid with his life. The widely man was pronounced "hopelessly injured" by Dr. E. W. Muller, psychiatrist, who said Voss complained he was not paid the usual small fee he received for posing.

Police Arrested Two On Charge of Arson

Nicholas Turck, 25, of 138 Delaware avenue, and Frank Carpino, 16, of 30 Willow street, were arrested at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Sergeant Charles Phinney on charges of arson in the third degree. They furnished bail in the sum of $1,000 each for their appearance in police court this morning at which time they were represented by Attorney Matthew V. Cahill. The hearing was adjourned for one week and the ball bonds continued.

The fire department on April 10 responded to a call to Willow street where a vacant house owned by the Hutton Company was on fire. The fire was finally brought under control after doing considerable damage to the house. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who investigated the fire, was of the opinion that it was of incendiary origin, and reported his findings to the police department.

Since then the police department has spent considerable time on the case making a thorough investigation and the two arrests.

Cedar Street Man "Felt Like Running"

Albert Jordan, 38, of 43 Cedar street, who said he is employed on the WPA projects here, was arrested by Officer Burger at 3:45 o'clock this morning when residents of Liberty street called up the police department to complain of a man running through the back yards and knocking down fences. The charge against Jordan was that of disorderly conduct.

This morning in police court Jordan told Judge Culliton that he was intoxicated last night and had just "felt like running."

He said he had not been arrested since the time he faced Judge Schrick when the judge presided over the city court.

Judge Culliton after hearing Jordan's story suspended the serving of a sentence of 10 days in jail and advised Jordan that when he felt like running again to go to his exercising in the day time and out in the country away from houses where he would annoy no one.

At The Theatres

Today
Broadway: "Charlie Chan at the Circus." Murder is mixed with the mas on the flying trapeze in the latest of the Charlie Chan super thrillers. Against the rattle-jangle of the circus, the show opens when Stanton, half owner of the circus, is found strangled to death, seemingly by the strong hands of an ape. Charlie Chan gets on the job and in this methodical and certain method of slow deduction, the Oriental sleuth uncovers the murderer after nearly everyone on the circus lot seems to have had a hand in the trouble. Led by the brilliant Warner Oland, the cast offers Keye Luke, George and Olive Branno, Maxine Rein, John McGuire, Shirley Deane and J. Carroll Nash. A Fox picture directed by Harry Lachman.

Kingston: "Hell Ship Morgan" and "Here Comes Trouble." A tough, rough man of the sea and his boat comes in for considerable discussion in the first attraction at the uptown theatre. George Bancroft, in the role of Hell Ship Morgan, brags about his exploits in a saloon one day only to have a total stranger ridicule his talk. He beats the man up to find the man weak from lack of food. He takes him on his ship, helps him get straightened out, and the two become friends until Morgan marries a girl he has befriended. The eternal triangle bobs up again when Morgan, his back broken from fighting a storm at sea, throws himself into the ocean. Victor Jory, Ann Sothorn and Howard Hickman are featured. "Here Comes Trouble" is also a sea story but it's comedy instead of tragedy. It describes the life of a ship's steward who always gets into trouble and he becomes tangled up with women, jewel thieves and misfortune during the run of the film. Paul Kelly, Arline Judge, Gregory Ratoff and Mona Barrie are featured.

Orpheum: "Strike Me Pink." Eddie Cantor, in the role of a frightened little fellow who is kicked around by everyone, comes across a book entitled "Man or Mouse" and immediately becomes an aggressive bundle of nerve and daring. Surrounded by pretty girls and a fine cast, the tale tells of what happens to Mr. Cantor when he takes over a tough pleasure concession that is having gangster trouble. The scenes are hilarious, the music is passable and the whole show is a luxurious musical comedy presentation. Ethel Merman, Sally Eilers and Parkyakarkas are featured.

Tomorrow
Broadway: "The Singing Kid." The puppy of the "mammy" songs turns on the personality full blast in his latest song and dance extravaganza that tells of a trusting Broadway stage and radio star whose simple faith in human nature made him the biggest sucker ever to show along the great white way. In love with a two-timing dame, this great radio star's love for her outshines all else and she takes him for one sweet ride, spending his money, grping him and ending her fun by running away with the gullible star's business manager. Naturally, this lays the star pretty low and he goes around in a daze and ends up by going to a mountain retreat where a true blue girl heals the wounds in his heart and all is fair weather once again. Al Jolson plays the starring role with gusto, gestures and sentimentality and the supporting group offers Claire Dodd, Edward Everett Horton, Allan Jenkins, Lyle Talbot, Sybil Jason, Wini Shaw and Beverly Roberts. Bobby Connolly staged the dance numbers, the music and lyrics were by E. Y. Harburg and Harold Arlen and the direction was handled by William Keighley. The big moments in the show however, are when the Yacht Club Boys perform and the work of Cab Calloway and his band is a standout.

Kingston: "Petticoat Fever." A wireless operator, lonely and deprived of seeing the face of a white woman for over a year, sits in his tower in Labrador and pines his fate until an airplane crashes near by with a lovely girl and her fiancée as the occupants. Life immediately becomes worthwhile and our hero starts using all his good looks and charm to win the girl away from her fiancée. He does a good job, employing all manner of trickery to

Presbyterians Held Annual Meeting And Elected New Officers

Thursday evening the annual meeting of the congregation of the Rondout Presbyterian Church was held in the chapel of the church and was largely attended. A chicken pie dinner was served by the Ladies Aid Society and the serving of the dinner was followed by the business meeting and election.

Henry C. Connolly, president of the board of trustees, opened the session and the call of the meeting was read by Charles Terwilliger, clerk of the board. William C. Kingman and Professor Arthur Russell, two of the elders of the church were chosen as moderators and Frank McCausland and Charles R. O'Connor appointer tellers.

Charles Terwilliger, Harold Metcalf and Edwin H. C. Angell were elected trustees, and Frank J. McCausland, Harold Davis, Byron V. Stevens and Samuel H. Peyer were re-elected deacons. The congregation also elected Donald Ringwald and Howard Wood as junior deacons.

Interesting reports of the various organizations of the church were given showing that the church had enjoyed an active year and closed the year with a balance on hand in the treasury. Miss Mary Van Valkenburgh gave a report of the activities of the Junior Guild; Mrs. L. W. Scott reported for the Woman's Missionary Society; Doris Monroe for the Men's Club; Miss Kathleen Burns for the Young Peoples' Club; Mrs. Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh for the Service Club; and Fred L. Van Deusen, superintendent of the Sunday School, reported on the school's activities during the past year. A recent organization of the formation of a Junior Christian Endeavor Society and reports of the work done by the organization were given by Emily Banks, Jessie Whipple, Alice Wells and Marion Leonard.

The Rev. James N. Armstrong, pastor of the church, reported for the session and stated that during the past year 14 new members had been received into the congregation. All of the organizations of the church had done excellent work he said, and called attention to the financial reports of the various societies and organizations. Printed financial reports were distributed to each member present.

The members of the Ladies Aid Society were assisted in serving the dinner by members of the Service Club and the Junior Guild.

Odd Fellows Hold Celebration Here

Thursday evening, the Ulster County Odd Fellows celebrated the 117th anniversary of their order with a dinner and dance at the Governor Clinton Hotel, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Ulster district.

After the dinner several speakers addressed the gathering. Frank Miller, district deputy, talking on the activities and accomplishments of the order. Several deputy presidents of the Rebekahs were introduced, too, by Arthur Trowbridge, master of ceremonies.

At the social, which concluded the program, cards were enjoyed, also dancing with music by the Ambassadors.

GREAT ARTIFICIAL LAKE TAKING FORM

Colorado River Now Filling Boulder Dam Basin.

Washington.—The world's largest man-made lake is taking form. Rebounding Boulder dam's mass of concrete, Boulder lake is spreading through deep canyons and across deserts. Ultimately it will have a shoreline of 350 miles and an area of 145,000 acres, making it a dozen times larger than the lake above Asuan dam on the Nile.

"Originally planned for power, irrigation, and flood control, Boulder lake also is developing into a scenic gem of first rank," says the National Geographic society.

"It may be a lake to man, but to animals it is a devastating flood. As the water rises, a foot or two daily, little wingless creatures scurry up hill-sides to escape, only to find themselves marooned on rapidly shrinking islands. When these islands are gradually submerged, the sparse shrubbery protruding from their tops bears strange 'fruit' of little rodents and reptiles.

A Modern Noah.

"A government conservationist, taking pity on their plight, went boating into the midst of these terrified tree-creepers, and offered them a free ride to dry land. They sprang into his boat, scuttling under seats for cover. Crowded on a diminishing island about three by six feet square, he rescued two cotton-tails, one jackrabbit, one desert kangaroo rat, two snakes, and three lizards.

"A projecting peak has already been informally christened 'Sheep Island,' because of the stubborn old mountain sheep ram marooned there, which has refused to leave. Such incidents may occur daily as Boulder lake lays up treasure in the shape of water, wealth, recreation, safety, and beauty. Its giant bulk has already backed up enough water to flood the state of Connecticut ten feet deep. Turbulent muddy Colorado river deepens far behind the huge dam in Black canyon and waits quietly to be needed for irrigation or power, meanwhile acquiring beauty as it loses freedom.

"From Black canyon through Boulder, Virgin, Travertine, and Iceberg canyons into magnificent Grand canyon itself, Boulder lake's peaceful waters are rising. Between narrow reaches in the gorges, the lake bulges dumbbell fashion across broad expanses of flat desert. Spring floods in May or June will lift it higher. It is already deeper than Lake Erie.

Will Weigh 42 Billion Tons.

"If a mirror could reflect this dashing painted river-lady of the desert, she would see herself losing her slim active figure, gaining weight and width on the way to a possible girth of 40 miles at the juncture of the Virgin river. Admirers estimate that her weight may reach 42 billion tons. And what a change in temperament accompanies her expansion into a long and bulging lake! Calmer, bluer, far more reflective, less given to haste and rapids scurrying around rocks—thus the Colorado river would see herself, becoming Boulder lake and a tourist attraction!

"At intervals Boulder lake will lap over sunny desert, now dotted with dull, gray-green clumps of mesquite and cactus. These dusty areas are subject to change without further notice, for at the water's approach, they burst into bright bloom with buttercup, desert poppy, evening primrose, Indian paintbrush, and yucca.

"As great a lure to visitors is the knowledge that rising water in Boulder lake gives access to remote canyons, some of them unnamed or even untraversed by white men. It seems intended by nature that Colorado river along the greater portion of its long and majestic way shall be forever unvisited and unexplored," commented an explorer, only 80 years ago. But Boulder lake values his prophecy.

"It will be possible for a motorboat to sail from Boulder dam to the mouth of Grand canyon, about 115 miles as the launch chugs, navigating gorges previously almost impassable because of shallow shifting channels or churning rapids. Undiscovered sprays of waterfalls plunging like tinsel threads off precipices; traces of vanished Indian tribes; giant stone 'faces' frowning from glacier-carved cliffs; striped gorges aglow with color—all await the explorer of tomorrow.

"While new vistas will be revealed, some familiar scenes will be submerged and added to legends of sunken cities or lost continents. The little vacated town of St. Thomas will meet a watery grave. Lost city, site of excavations revealing Pueblo and Piute Indian habitations as far back as 200 B. C., will be lost again except to archeologists in deep-sea diving suits.

"As a recreation area Boulder lake will offer sightseeing, boating, camping, swimming, fishing, and field study in natural sciences. Visitors in 1935 numbered 265,000."

Asks Mayor to Collect Car Damages for Her

A major of the city receives many odd requests, and today Mayor C. J. Heiselman received a letter written by a Youngville, North Carolina woman who asked him to investigate an auto accident in the south and help her collect damages. She wrote that her car was struck by a car driven by a Kingston resident. She said that he tried to pass her car on a hill and damaged it to such an extent that it was still in the repair shop. She said that the Kingston resident assured her he was to blame and would make good the damage. She wrote that since then she had made various attempts to collect but had been unsuccessful and asked the mayor if he would make an investigation and get compensation for her damages. The letter was turned over to Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin.

Card Party and Dance

The Sawkill Republican Club held a card party and dance at Reiff's hall on Wednesday evening, April 22. Games of pinochle, euchre and card-nore were played. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Dancing followed, with music furnished by Pete Hoyer. There were guests present from Stony Hollow, Ruby and Kingston.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACQUES

New York, April 24 (AP)—Chrysler and an assortment of industrial specialties led a quiet rally in today's stock market.

The list, however, moved by fits and starts and the comeback of most issues was at an extremely slow pace after a morning selling flurry and put the ticker tape a minutes behind.

At the approach of the final hour American Can was up 3 points and Chrysler and Loew's about 2 each. Lesser advances were shown by General Motors, Du Pont, Anaconda, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Distillers Corp. and Allied Chemical.

Stocks unchanged to off a point or so included Westinghouse, Case, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, American Smelting, Santa Fe and N. Y. Central.

The late tone was mixed. Transfers approximated 2,000,000 shares.

Many Interesting "13's"

In America the number 13 should be regarded very highly. There were 13 original states and our first flag had 13 stripes and 13 stars. Our first navy numbered 13 ships and Admiral Perry won his lake Erie victory on the 13th. The Stars and Stripes was raised over Fort Sumter on the 13th; the first message over an Atlantic cable was received on the 13th, and our national motto has 13 letters. Close examination will reveal that the eagle on American quarters has 13 feathers in its tail and 13 stars on its chest. When children 13 years old in each ward, church or school with one class and a branch with 13 members in the other and carries a ribbon in its mouth with 13 letters on it. To add to the bizarre features of 13, to note there are 13 stars on the shield over the eagle's head and 13 stars on the other side—Pittsburgh Magazine.

ARCH OF TRIUMPH IS 100 YEARS OLD

Anniversary to Be Observed at Paris in July.

Paris.—On July 29 Paris will celebrate the centenary of the Arch of Triumph. The arch will be illuminated and there will be a special ceremony at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Begun by Napoleon in 1806, it was not until France had twice changed governments that the arch was finally completed under King Louis Philippe. During its construction it provoked almost as many battles between architects and officials as are commemorated in the military inscriptions on its walls.

Napoleon at first intended it as a memorial of the Battle of Austerlitz, and then decided to include the other victories of the armies of the Republic and the Empire. At the time of his marriage to Marie Louise in 1810 he desired the arch to mark also the triumph of the bridal procession.

But the architects were building for the ages, and its foundations were not yet completed. A temporary arch had to be constructed for the occasion, and the work on the arch proper went on slowly, and Napoleon's downfall put a temporary end to the project. During the next seven years the strange half-finished monument remained untouched. But it was too solidly built to destroy, and in 1823 Louis XVIII finished it as a memorial to the victory of the Duke of Angoulême at Cadix.

A long controversy between architects developed, and many plans were fought over and rejected before it was finally decided to revert to Napoleon's original design. Louis Philippe, the liberal king, did not flinch from glorifying the achievements of the Republic and the Empire. The monument cost, all told, 9,661,115 francs.

Con-Men Reap Harvest

With 2-Inch Grass Seed

St. Louis.—Con-men have gone native. Instead of selling the Woolworth building, the Brooklyn bridge or the Statue of Liberty, they now are peddling two-inch grass, perfumed plants which "bloom every few weeks," and bull's head pills said to produce various cures.

Harry W. Riehl of the St. Louis better business bureau, said thousands of persons in nearly every state in the Union have bitten.

Gullible suburbanites comprise a great market for the two-inch grass seed artists. Visioning lawn-mowers, less summer days, they pay $1 to $1.50 for the "accommodating" seed that really is 8 cents a pound English blue grass.

The most widespread phase of the racket, Riehl said, is the sale of the recurrently blooming plants. They are known as "resurrection" plants, actually a desert weed which, by the time it is sold, is often too nearly dead to open up even once. Marketed as "French Roses," the weeds sell for about $2.00 for three.

The bull's head pills is supposed to give birth to two lilies of different colors. The sales sample is prepared by drilling two small holes in the bulb and inserting the stems of two lilies. If the bulb grows at all it produces root-like, linear foliage—but rarely a lily. They sell ordinarily for about 25 cents apiece.

Volcanic Island Given

Fixed Place by Survey

Seattle.—Mysterious and temperamental Bogoslov Island, truant of the Bering set, literally has been "nailed down" by the United States coast and geodetic survey.

After many years of uncertainty, during which time mariners have reported the island as being located at widely scattered points, a scientific survey, conducted recently, placed volcanic Bogoslov in an exact position 23 miles north of Unalakleet Island of the Aleutian archipelago.

Black Bogoslov, which has engaged in violent volcanic activity in times past, has been the bane of cartographers, seeking to change its position. Accurate location of the seldom-visited island now has been determined, and if a future survey is made, cartographers will know if Bogoslov is a "shifting" island.

Fliers' "Square of Fame"

Destroyed by Accident

Melbourne, Australia.—The "Square of Fame," a wall in the Brickmakers' hotel, near Melbourne's chief airport, on which were written many famous names in aviation, has been destroyed. The wall crumbled during renovations. About 1,000 pilots had written their names on the wall and drawn a line near their signatures to indicate their heights. Names which figure largely in the history of aviation in Australia that were inscribed include those of Sir Charles Kingford Smith, Flight Lieut. C. T. R. Uim, Col. Roscoe Turner, Bert Rinkler, J. H. Moles and Amy Johnson.

Cigars Create Need

of Air-Conditioning

Sydney, Australia.—Air conditioning on trains was much needed in America than in Australia because the several cigar smoking in the United States made the atmosphere in the coaches very bad, said T. J. Harrigan, commissioner for railways in New South Wales, who has returned from a world tour, including America.

Politics at Random

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, Associated Press, Washington)

THE idea of a constitutional amendment to broaden federal powers appears to have been shuffled to the bottom of the political pack; but that is no proof that the original concept of the "new deal" are to be abandoned to their fate during the coming campaign.

In fact recent events point in the opposite direction. The new soil erosion act is a frank attempt to attain the major purpose of AAA, which was the control of agricultural surpluses. Similarly, the President himself has forecast a further effort by the federal government to accomplish the wage and hour objectives of NRA, and more.

Furthermore, the general trend of these enterprises is becoming fairly clear. Both NRA and AAA were held unconstitutional on the ground that they infringed on local authority. The tendency of recent administration action has been toward joint action with the local authorities.

In other words, it now is proposed by some of the administration stalwarts to accomplish by cooperation what the supreme court has said cannot be done by compulsion.

Cooperation The Key

THE social security act, which was passed after some of the earlier "new deal" statutes began to get into trouble in the courts, is an illustration of the cooperative idea. Under this legislation the federal government makes certain grants to the state governments, provided the state governments themselves enact social security laws satisfactory to Washington. So eager has been the desire of the states to participate in these grants that 36 already have qualified to receive payments from the federal treasury.

Although the state governments as such are not involved, a similar general method has been followed in the soil erosion program. The farmer signs no contract, as he did under AAA, agreeing to regulations made in Washington. He simply cooperates, if he chooses, by refraining from capacity production. Again, the inducement is the knowledge he will receive a bounty check in return for his effort.

The idea is by no means new, and it is rather unusual that the new deal did not adopt it on a larger scale in the beginning. For many years the federal government has been offering money to states which put up a like amount for highway construction, and other purposes. That is a method of securing cooperation which has worked exceptionally well.

Time Will Tell

THE President has not expanded publicly on his Baltimore statement that "the government must give and will give consideration" to work hours and wage scales, or his further suggestion that a way be found to keep children in school until they are 18.

One of his principal supporters, however, Senator Pittman of Nevada, has given a possible clue to the situation.

"I think the tendency right now of the administration," said Senator Pittman the other day, "is to bring about social reforms through a 50-50 cooperation with the states."

Of course the school laws are made by the states, and the courts have recognized the right of state governments to regulate wages and hours. Can the objectives of NRA still be reached by offering the states certain inducements to pass state laws acceptable, in these respects, to the federal government? Can the relief burden be gradually shifted to a 50-50 basis by the same method?

The details can only be developed by time. The striking thing now is the change of view which has developed at Washington. Lacking is the note of despair which characterized the President's "horse and buggy" statement after the NRA decision. There is a minimum of talk of changing the constitution, but much talk of the new "cooperative" way toward constitutional attainment of those social changes on which the administration has set its heart.

Stork Shower

On Wednesday evening, April 22, a surprise stork shower was tendered Mrs. Leonard Warren of Summitville, at the home of Mrs. Gross Schoonmaker. Mrs. Warren was formerly Miss Mabel Hendrickson of this place. Many of her friends showered her with gifts, which she opened amid much laughter. The evening was spent in playing games. Delicious refreshments were served and at a late hour the guests departed, vowing Mrs. Schoonmaker and her daughter, Mrs. Carle, very charming hostesses.

Farewell Party

Modena, April 24.—A farewell party, in the form of a surprise, was given the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Shea, Tuesday evening in the Haabrook Memorial Hall, by residents of Modena and vicinity. Dr. and Mrs. Shea left town Wednesday for their home in Montgomery, and the pulpit of the Methodist Church will be occupied by the newly appointed pastor, the Rev. Philip Soldner, on Sunday morning, April 26. At the farewell party Tuesday evening, "Going to Jerusalem" was played, community singing enjoyed, and refreshments of sandwiches, fruit, jello, cake and coffee served. Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. Shea, Mr. and Mrs. Myron L. Shultz, Mr. and Mrs. Ransel Ward and son, Harold, Mr. and Mrs. William Doolittle and son, Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wells and daughters, Joan and Betty, Mr. and Mrs. George Dunsberger, Horace Dunsberger, Mr. and Mrs. L. Thomas and sons, Robert and Earl and Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Chambers, Maybeth, Marjorie and Charles Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haabrook, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coy and daughter, Gladys, Mrs. Ira Hyatt, Mrs. Lillian Rhodes

GARNER FADES OUT

Don Juan, Once in Congress, Lost in Shmoo

Brownsville, Tex., April 24 (AP).—Vice presidents seem to fade out of the picture.

Take the case of John Garner, who used to be known by his first name to every sun-burned citizen along the Texas border.

An aged Spanish-American in Hidalgo county, unable to produce a birth certificate in conjunction with his application for an old age pension, told Frank Crow, district supervisor, of two men who had known him for more than 60 years and could swear to his age. One lives in Edinburg.

"And then," Crow quoted the old man, "there's Don Juan Garner, who used to be congressman, but I've lost track of him lately."

Contents of Whisky

Whisky is 50.75 per cent ethyl alcohol and water, says Industrial and Engineering Chemistry. The remainder consists of one per cent to a complex mixture which supplies smoothness, flavor, and palatability. A mixture of grain alcohol and water is extremely irritating to the sensory nerves of the mouth; therefore this small fraction serves as a palliative for the stinging effect mixture so that it can pass easily into the stomach. The bouquet and mellowness characteristic of whiskies result solely in the composition of these minute quantities of organic "impurities" in ethyl alcohol and water.

"Thoroughbred" "Toll Blood"

The terms, "thoroughbred" and "toll blood," are often arbitrarily used in place of the term, "purebred." Strictly speaking, thoroughbred is the name of a breed of light racing horses. A purebred animal is a member of some particular breed and is registered or eligible to be registered in the breed book of the breed. A purebred animal usually possesses a distinctive and useful type which it has the power to transmit to its offspring, because it is bred by a long line of ancestors of the same type.

About The Folks

Mrs. E. Bond Brown of Phoenixia accompanied her husband and little daughter to the Methodist Conference last week when they were guests at the Williams home on Abruzz street.

Mrs. Clara G. Zegel, widow of the late Peter Zegel, Sr., proprietor of Zegel's Casino, is visiting friends and relatives at Rosendale while engaged in settling her husband's estate.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Roede, Jr., 132 Clinton avenue, are the proud parents of a son, Robert Telford, born Thursday, April 13, at the Kingston Hospital. Mother and son are doing nicely under the care of Dr. Kenneth LeFevre.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lawrence and Florence Elliott have returned from a trip to East Long Meadow, Mass. While there they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ackerman and family. Mrs. Nellie Krom accompanied them and is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Ackerman.

Harry Bailey, one of town of Olive's most prominent nurserymen and farmers, is in the New York Hospital undergoing a very serious operation. Mr. Bailey will be confined from all business for about eight weeks. Mr. Bailey is farming on a very large scale this year, having taken over the large farms of James Joyce and Arthur Lane, with Vernon Beatty as superintendent.

Diet Affects Teeth

Many old people, past seventy and eighty, still have all their teeth in good condition. Experiments on animals indicate that diet has much to do with keeping teeth from decaying. Lime, phosphorus and vitamin D are needed. Lime is provided by milk, cheese, leafy vegetables and egg yolk. Foods rich in phosphorus are milk, cheese, egg yolk, meat and whole grains. Vitamin D may be found in butter, egg yolk, liver, green vegetables and cod liver oil, according to the National Society of the Study of New York.

The couple have been in business here for nearly 20 years. Besides her husband she is survived by a brother, Morris Lipka, of Brooklyn, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Midman and Miss Edith Lipka, of Poland. There are also 10 nieces and nephews, among them Mrs. Louis Rosenstock of Ellenville.

Heir to $50,000 Sought by Officials

White Plains, N. Y., April 24 (AP).—Kenneth Grant Steers, 16-year-old son of a former waitress and a supposedly dead sign painter, is an heir to $50,000—but doesn't know it.

Supreme Court Justice Raymond E. Aldrich withheld judgment today in the mother's suit for an Enoch Arden dissolution of her marriage, pending final efforts to locate the boy. He urged public co-operation in the search.

The mother, Mrs. Thomas Grant Steers, who inherited $50,000 two years ago upon the death of her father, John P. Palm, well-known Mount Vernonite, lives at 15 South 14th avenue in that city. She had recently lived at 263 Chatterton Parkway here.

Mrs. Steers charges that her husband vanished in May of 1928 after removing his son from the boarding home of Mrs. Eva Wood at 210 Hooper street in Brooklyn. The Steers separated in February, 1927. They gave up their home at 3804 111th street Corona.

Ellenville, April 24.—Miss Katherine Macker, only surviving daughter of the late George Macker and his wife, Letta Cowles Macker, was born in Ellenville in 1860 and died at the family home on Clinton avenue April 16. Miss Macker spent most of her life in Ellenville. She was graduated in the Class of '11, studied at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston and was teacher of music in this village for many years. Surviving are her cousins, Edgar Budd and Miss Mae Budd of Ellenville, Miss Jean Reeves of Port Jervis, Frank Cowles of California and Miss Viola Cowles of Hastings, N. Y.

Funeral services were held at the Ostrander Mortuary Chapel on Monday, April 20, conducted by the Rev. A. M. Wilkins of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Burial was in the Faintinekill Cemetery.

Mrs. Katherine B. Melbert, widow of Jacob H. Melbert, died at her home 16 Lincoln street, Thursday afternoon after a brief illness. Mrs. Melbert was born in Germany and came to this country about 65 years ago. As a member of Trinity Lutheran church friends to abundance can count modest deeds and years they had the good fortune to be associated with her. She is survived by two sons, Henry and Christian Melbert, three daughters, Rose, wife of Philip Gauthier, Elizabeth, wife of Charles Grunwald, and Katherine, wife of Henry Tadel, seven grandchildren and one great grandchild, two brothers, Christian and John Beck, and three sisters, Mrs. Barbara Otto, Mrs. Elizabeth Remus and Mrs. Agnes Garlick, all of this city. Funeral services will be held at her home Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment will be in Montrose cemetery.

Ellenville, April 24.—Short funeral services were held at the Wood and Lambert Funeral Home Sunday afternoon for Mrs. F. J. Lipka, who died at the Veterans' Memorial Hospital Sunday morning from injuries sustained in an auto accident a week previous. Her husband, who was driving the car at the time, remains at the hospital in a serious condition. Rabbi Levi Kazz offered the eulogy and prayers. After the service the body was taken to New York city where further services were held the following day at Riverside Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. Herbert S. Goldstein in charge. Interment was in St. John Cemetery, Brooklyn. Mrs. Lipka was born in Poland May 15, 1892, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lipka. Twenty-three years ago she married Mr. Lipka, her cousin, in New York city.

Lowell Club Diner Was Held Monday

On Monday the Lowell club closed the year's program with a dinner and social evening at the Stuyvesant Hotel. Tables in the dining room, arranged to form a follow square, were prettily decorated with forsythia, marguerites and snapdragons. Potted plants and forsythia were within the follow square. Tall white candles on the tables gave an artistic touch to the setting. With Mrs. O. D. B. Ingalls as hostess, the excellent dinner was interspersed with humorous stories told by different club members.

After a short business meeting the members adjourned to the reception room where the Empress Dowager in person of Miss L. C. Pettungill, old court, assisted by Mrs. J. J. Murphy as page. Several delinquent subjects had judgment passed upon them and the sentences were duly executed. Each subject then read a selection from the writings of The Sage. Court entertainment followed, opened by two piano solos played by Mrs. C. E. Wender, "Oriental" and "Dance Oriental." Mrs. Robert Nelson gave two vocal selections with Mrs. M. Z. Chidester at the piano, "I Hear a Thrush at Eve" and "The Fairy Pipes." This was followed by a summary of the Chinese drama, "The Precious Stream," given by Mrs. R. K. Witter in a most interesting and realistic manner. Mrs. Witter was assisted by Mrs. J. J. Murphy and Miss A. D. Quimby. Between the second and third acts of the play, Mrs. Nelson offered two vocal selections with Miss Catherine Anderson at the piano, "Song of the Open" and "Love is the Wind." Mrs. Nelson graciously responded with an encore after each group of songs. Mrs. W. L. Steiner gave a reading, "A Lament" over the tragic discovery that a Chinese restaurant offered chopsticks wrapped in cellophane. The program closed with the selection, "Boats of Mine," sung by the Lowell Club quartet, Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. O. D. B. Ingalls, Mrs. C. E. Wender and Mrs. M. Z. Chidester, with Mrs. Wender at the piano. Court was then dismissed. This program was appropriate as the club has been studying China this year. Sincere appreciation was expressed to the program committee and to Mrs. Steiner in particular who had charge of the entertainment for a most enjoyable evening. Those present were: Mrs. O. D. B. Ingalls, Mrs. J. A. McCombs, Mrs. W. L. Steiner, Mrs. M. Z. Chidester, Mrs. L. Boever, Mrs. M. C. Howe, Mrs. R. K. Witter, Mrs. W. A. Longyear, Mrs. J. J. Murphy, Miss A. D. Quimby, Mrs. F. Snyder, Mrs. C. E. Wender, Miss Catherine Anderson, Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. W. N. Fessenden, Mrs. O. Edwards, Mrs. A. H. Van Buren, Mrs. M. S. Conklin, Mrs. F. R. Pooley, Mrs. W. D. Hale, Miss L. M. Lovely Places of Scotia

All the wild and lovely places of Scotia are full of memories. Dundee, which readers of "Red Gauntlet" will recall, is near the ruined tower of Orkney of Lagg, and the scene of wandering Willie's tale; of the mounds and stones of Stennis where Norse gods were worshiped and are buried, of the Castle of Forres on the journey from Elgin to Inverness where took place the murder of the king immortalized in "Macbeth," whose keep goes back to prehistoric days, and then there is little Dunrobin, a castle in the country near Dumfries, fragrant with the memories of Lady Devorgilla, mother of Balliol, one of the loveliest figures in Scottish romance. Scotland teems with such haunts.

People Rest Today In Gonzalez Trial

Just before the noon adjournment of county court The People rested their case and this afternoon the defense of Jose and Prudencio Gonzalez was taken up. At the morning session of court cross-examination of Casimiro Iglesias was concluded and Emilio Rodriguez, proprietor of the boarding house at Kerhonkson which was stuck-up on October 12, 1931, took the stand.

Rodriguez is the man from whom $1,500 was taken by the five bandits. He was the proprietor of the place and said at the time he had about 45 men boarding at the state road construction camp. His present address is 418 Broadway, Schenectady.

Describing the hold-up he said he was in the kitchen of the house at 4:30 o'clock in the morning preparing to get breakfast for his men when two men came into the house and entered the rear kitchen door and one man, whom he identified as Prudencio Gonzalez, had two guns in his hand, the other man had one. Tied about his eyes was a ladies silk stocking which was tied behind the stocking he said covered only the eyes of the man.

"Hands up," demanded the man. This man he testified, was Prudencio, also known as Red Rubio. The witness said he stood up and faced the wall while three other men came from somewhere and brought down all of the boarders in the house and searched them. All were placed in the dining room facing the wall while they were robbed. The witness said he was the last one robbed. When the bandit searched him he took the roll of $1,500 and demanded.

"Where is the other $3,000 you had?" The witness said he was thoroughly searched.

Then the bandit said as he turned to Prudencio Gonzalez, "Chief he has only got $1,500." He told the witness to come clean with the other $3,000 and took a gun in his stomach and threatened him with a black-jack.

During the examination Mr. Haver asked the witness to identify a silk stocking as one like that which the bandit had on. The witness did and he was then asked to place it about his eyes in the same manner as it appeared on October 12, 1931. This was done and defense counsel objected. Overruled by the court.

"When this man came in he had his teeth like this," said the witness showing a slightly bunched set of teeth and drawn lips.

"Like they are now," said Mr. Haver, as he turned to look at Prudencio Gonzalez. This was objected to by counsel for the defendants, who asked the court to direct a mistrial. The request was denied.

The witness said Prudencio had mounted a table in the dining room and covered the room with two guns and demanded that the other robbers bring in all of the men in the place and search them and take away their valuables. The conversation, he said, was in English except once Prudencio attempted to speak Italian. Some of the men in the place spoke in Spanish during the hold-up among themselves. After all had been searched the men were permitted to sit down and then the witness said he saw Prudencio good and was positive of his identification.

Cross-examined, Rodriguez said none of the robbers talked in Spanish but Prudencio had started to speak Italian but he could not understand it, he knew it was Italian.

The witness said he had met a man named Gonzalez in Kingston who was engaged in the cigar business. This meeting had been through Francis T. Murray a few days ago. He denied that he told Gonzalez that he could not identify Prudencio or Jose as the men who held up the place.

The witness said he had visited the office of the district attorney and there Prudencio had been exhibited on a table with a silk stocking over his face. He identified Prudencio as the man who had been called the chief at the robbery. Rodriguez also said he had been to Patterson and New York with the police to identify Jose Gonzalez. Jose was at a police station in Patterson and later was taken to the New York police station. He denied he ever heard any threats made by police officers that they would throw Jose off the George Washington bridge as their car was returning to New York from New York. The witness said he has slept most of the time as it was very late at night.

He denied he ever told anyone that he could not identify Prudencio and said Sergeant Lockhart had never told him, "this is the man who robbed you."

After the usual motions to dismiss the indictment after The People rested a recess was taken for lunch and the defense was ready to open at the resumption of court at 1:30 o'clock.

The Ever Ready Club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Reginald Van Leuven on Tuesday evening, April 28.

LIBRARIAN DECLARES MEN PREFER "HEAVEN" READING

Tuscaloosa, Ala. (AP)—Alma W. man, head librarian at the university of Alabama, observes that men students read "heavier" books than women.

"Girls in general choose poetry and novels," she says, "while boys pick more serious books."

Mrs. Engle Burned Fatally

Fort Worth, Tex., April 24 (AP)—Mrs. Charles Engle, wife of the shortstop on the Fort Worth baseball team, was fatally burned in a mysterious fire which swept her duplex apartment here today. Mrs. Engle died in a hospital five hours after her body was found just inside the front door of her apartment by firemen. She was clad only in stockings and one shoe. Police expressed doubt of a theory advanced by neighbors that Mrs. Engle was slain. Mrs. Joe Perost, wife of a Fort Worth outfielder, said she and Mrs. Engle were followed by men in a motor car when they drove home last night after visiting the wife of a third player.

ROCKET SHIP SOARS 700 MILES AN HOUR

Expert Works on Plans to "Send to Moon."

Washington.—Jules Verne's fantastic story of a trip to the moon by rocket may be nearer reality than many believed.

Dr. Robert H. Goddard, who has worked 15 years on a liquid propellant rocket, reported that his experimental ships had reached a top speed of 700 miles an hour and that he hoped soon to surpass this record.

His work was so exceptional in this previously neglected field that three years ago Col. Charles A. Lindbergh helped the Clark university physicist obtain a grant from the Guggenheim foundation. After experiments at Roswell, New Mexico, Doctor Goddard broke a self-imposed silence to discuss his process to date and the problems yet to be solved.

Beats Plane Record.

Already Doctor Goddard has attained a speed which is more than double that of the fastest record set by Sir Malcolm Campbell when he blurred across the flats near Salt Lake City, Utah, at slightly better than 300 miles an hour. The fastest seaplanes, stripped down to tremendous power-house motors with gnat-like wings, still have to streak along at 500 miles an hour.

Yet fellow scientists are not certain that this extraordinary speed of 700 miles an hour can be maintained long enough to throw a rocket out into space where the earth's gravitation would not pull it back again.

The "motor" used by Doctor Goddard is powered by a combination of liquid oxygen and gasoline. Discarding the chamber or "motor" of the rocket ship, Doctor Goddard said the one decided upon was 5 1/2 inches in diameter and weighed five pounds. The maximum lift obtained was 280 pounds and the period of combustion usually exceeded 20 seconds. The lifting force was found to be steady.

Problems which still have to be conquered before Jules Verne's fantasy can come true include stabilization and construction of a ship that is lighter than the present experimental rockets which weigh from 58 to 85 pounds.

Use Small Gyroscopes.

Best results so far have been obtained by inserting a small gyroscope in the rocket. This is the same device that is seen in some children's mechanical toys or on ocean liners which attempt to overcome the rolling motion.

"Inasmuch as the rockets started slowly, the first few hundred feet of the flight reminded one of a fish swimming in vertical direction," wrote Doctor Goddard in a section describing actual flights.

"The continually increasing speed of the rockets with the accompanying steady roar make the flights very impressive. In no flight the rocket left a smoke trail and had a small intensely white flame issuing from the nozzle, which at times nearly disappeared with no decrease in roar or propelling force."

The white flashes show the rocket, he said, were explosion of the gas line vapor in the air.

Doctor Goddard said that the greatest height obtained in any of the tests was 7,500 feet. He said he wanted to work out certain fundamental construction problems before attempting a ceiling record.

Besides the Guggenheim foundation Doctor Goddard's experimental work has been supported by Clark university, the Carnegie Institution of Washington and the Smithsonian Institute.

"Deaf Spots" Are Erased by New Amplifier Device

Los Angeles.—Success in giving 95 per cent perfect hearing to half deaf persons was announced by researchers seeking a scientifically ideal ear amplifier.

Delighted smiles of persons hearing the high notes of an opera for the first time in their lives are rewarding the researchers. Prof. Vern O. Knudsen, and two graduate students, Norman Watson and Ludwig Sennar, who have spent a year and a half on the project at the University of California.

They seek to place mechanical hearing aids on the same prescription basis as eye glasses, promising great relief to the hard of hearing, who are estimated at 3,000,000 in the United States alone.

Discovering that most of such afflicted persons hear some notes perfectly, but are deaf to others, Doctor Knudsen built an amplifier that will pick out a certain range of tones and amplify that alone.

Minnesota's Timber-Cut Sets a Seven-Year High

St. Paul.—Twenty thousand acres are making a miniature thunder in Minnesota this winter, with the timber business better than it has been in seven years.

The temperature has touched 30 below zero; swamps and tree roads are strong enough to bear the tractors to this modern woods road.

M. J. Thornton, state surveyor general, estimated that 30,000,000 board feet of timber will be taken, a 30 per cent increase over the average cut of the last five years.

11th Jury Chosen.

Catskill, N. Y., April 24 (AP)—The 11th jury to try Alfred E. Volz, 26, for the murder of Helen Glenn, 26, was selected today at the trial started the end of its second week. He is Ernest Elford, of Clifton, a 38-year-old farmer. He is married.

Relief Bonds Issue For Fall Voting

ocratic leadership, adopted the bill several weeks ago.

Governor Lehman transmitted the measure to the legislature last month, and two weeks ago appeared directly to the people for support. The plan aligns New York with the federal act, and it passed would enable the Empire State to receive between $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 in federal funds to aid the aged, blind and dependent children.

Agree With Fearns

The Republican assemblymen who favor the program are understood to take the same position as Republican Senate Leader George R. Fearns, who supported the plan, when it rode unopposed through the Senate.

Fearns said that he believes New York, as long as it is contributing heavily in taxes to the federal government, should participate in the social security program.

The Republican party as a whole is opposed to the plan because it would require an increased tax to raise the $4,000,000 necessary to pay the state's share for the first year. Governor Lehman suggests a 20 per cent increase in alcoholic beverage taxes. The Republicans point out that they cannot favor either new or increased taxes.

The Republican Assembly majority has passed, however, the key measure of the program—reducing the old age pension limit from 70 to 65 years. A caucus next week on the other seven points is likely.

Meanwhile, legislative leaders prepared heavy calendars for the resumption of work next Monday night as the final drive for adjournment by May 2.

The Senate in its four days' work this week passed nearly 300 bills—41 in three days—and has little controversial legislation remaining to be acted upon.

The assembly, meantime, has 135 bills awaiting action Monday night. After its three weeks' recess, it will take up more in rules committee and all the measures tossed into its lap during the week by the Senate.

Among the bills yet to be considered by both houses, in addition to the drastically reduced executive budget, are those proposing New York's participation in the federal old control program, centralization of unemployment relief administration in a permanent authority, and various appropriation measures aggregating nearly $25,000,000.

RIFTON.

Rifton, April 24.—Miss Dorothy Schikler entertained the Wednesday afternoon bridge club at her home this week.

Harry Eckert spent Wednesday at the home of her brother Jim and his wife in Kingston.

Miss Eleanor Felber motored to Brooklyn and returned on Sunday while there she visited her sister Mrs. Arthur Alcide.

Miss Rose Friedman entertained several friends from Kingston at dinner on Sunday, among them Mr. and Mrs. Brown and daughters, and Buddy Kalish.

The Rifton Heights pinocle party meets this week on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Al Nicholas, instead of Thursday.

On Thursday, April 30th, the Ladies' Guild of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church will hold their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Sanford Phillips. All members are urged to attend.

Mrs. Johnson and daughter Esther spent the week-end visiting relatives in Brooklyn.

The Thursday afternoon pinocle club met this week at the home of Mrs. Emma Vonderleith.

Miss Anna Divine is entertaining her aunt, Mrs. Corby for several days.

A number of Riftonites attended a card party held at the fire house on St. Remy Wednesday night.

Miss Hazel Mitchell has returned to her home in Brooklyn after spending several weeks at the home of relatives here.

The Raynor has been entertaining several guests over the week-end. The friends and neighbors of Mrs. George Stern are glad to learn that he is recovering rapidly from his recent illness.

David Ashcroft of Brooklyn spent several days last week at his home here.

Presidential News.

Washington, April 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt remained away from his desk today to work on the speech to be given at New York city tomorrow night and to nurse a slight head cold. The regular semi-weekly press conference scheduled for this morning was cancelled. The President sent over word he didn't have any news, anyway. The head cold, which has bothered the President occasionally in the past, was described as slight, but with a talk scheduled for tomorrow night the President decided to take care of it.

April Session of Classis of Ulster

(Official Report.)

The Classis of Ulster, Reformed Church in America, held its April session on Tuesday in the Gardiner church. The Rev. E. C. Duryee, president, called the session at 10:15 o'clock and made the opening prayer. All but four of the churches were represented. There were several visitors, ministers, elders and ladies present. The year's reports were presented and the situation of the various denominational boards and funds set before the meeting. The state of religion in the churches of the classis was presented by the Rev. Mr. Duryee. This report showed a falling off in some respects, a gain in others. Noticeable was the spirit of thankfulness, perseverance, courage and hope. The Rev. John F. Heldenreich succeeded to the office of president, and the Rev. G. L. Palmer to the office of temporary clerk. A feature of the meeting was the discussion of and adoption of many changes in the rules of procedure and organization of the classis. The temporary clerk henceforth becomes the vice president; the session is to begin at 9 o'clock, and the afternoon hours are as far as possible to be devoted to the more inspirational side of the work. Committees are to consider the matter of adjusting assessments, arranging for the men's dinner, and securing a speaker for the October meeting. Arrangements were made for examining a student for licensure, this meeting to be on May 25, in the First Church of Kingston.

The calls of the Marbletown and Katbaan churches upon Students Hoffman and Decker were voted approved upon certain conditions. The agent for Foreign Missions, the Rev. E. C. Duryee, was delegated to attend the meeting of the Foreign Mission Board at New Brunswick, May 21 and 22. Delegates were named for the synodical gatherings soon to be held. The Revs. Pfau, Duccemoos, Duryee and Heldenreich, and Elders Hirst, Keator, William Wolven and Willis Wolven, to attend Particular Synod, in the Italian Reformed Church of Our Saviour, Newburgh, May 5. The Revs. Wulschelger, Stowe and Chilton, and Elders Heabe, Carey and Palen, to attend General Synod at Rochester, June 8-9. It was announced that Dr. Luman J. Shafer, associate secretary for Foreign Missions, would speak over the air, on WEAF, Sunday, April 26, at 10 a. m. An order favoring the consummation of the union of our (two) seminaries was adopted. Resolutions of sorrow in the death of the Rev. A. V. S. Wallace, D. D., were adopted, and classis stood in silent prayer for a moment, in tribute to Dr. Wallace's memory.

A suitable expression of the brethren's sympathy is to be sent to the bereaved family. The agent for Social Welfare presented recommendations that were adopted: That the delegates to General Synod from this classis are requested to do all they can to strengthen the stand of the Reformed Church in America in regard to world peace; to secure the endorsement by General Synod of the proposed Child Labor amendment, and to secure the condemnation by Synod of the proposed legalization of lotteries. The agent recommended further that classis place itself on record as endorsing the Hanley-Hollowell local option bill and the Wagner-Costigan bill against lynching, now in committee in the U. S. Senate.

The new rules were voted in effect with this session. Committees were appointed. The classis held a devotional service at 1:30 p. m., in which the Rev. E. C. Duryee gave the address, basing this upon Christ's words, "Without Me ye can do nothing." The emphasis being upon Christian Personality. Dr. James Cantine made the prayer, in this service. The Rev. J. F. Heldenreich presided. Mrs. Charles Kurtz sang an appropriate solo with fine effect. The entire group of classis members and visitors were entertained at noon in the Bible School room, by the ladies of the church. Their hospitality was enjoyed and appreciated by all, and words of thanks and praise were spoken, for the group, by the Rev. G. J. Wulschelger. The invitation of the Rochester church of Accord, to hold the October meeting in their church, was accepted with thanks. The Rev. Harvey I. Todd made the closing prayer, and classis adjourned at 5:00 p. m.

Secretary Perkins Answers Attack

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Mrs. William A. Becker, president general of the D. A. R., said in a statement today that a recent letter questioning Secretary Perkins' ancestry and marriage was "a state matter which does not concern the national organization."

"We do not attack personalities," Mrs. Becker said, adding that the labor secretary "was a guest of the national society" on the opening night of its convention.

Mrs. Becker's statement quoted "State Letter No. 3 sent out by Miss Harper Sheppard of Hanover, Pa. state D. A. R. regent," which, in giving opposition to the Coolidge-Kellogg deportation bill, said there was no record of Miss Perkins' birth in Boston in 1882, and that "the only record of marriage of Paul Wilson (her husband's name)" was to "Mildred Wutski" in 1910.

Secretary Perkins previously had denied a denial of statements contained in the letter, detailing facts of her ancestry and stating that the marriage referred to was that of entirely different individuals.

Norway's National Park

The Jotunheim is a national park in southern Norway. It is a vast wilderness of peaks and glaciers, interspersed with hundreds of trout brooks and lakes. The name means home of the giants. In Norse mythology it is considered the dwelling place of the Jotuns, trolls, and other enemies of the good gods, and therefore the home of everything evil. Except for a few hundred no one had seen much of the dreaded district until a little more than a hundred years ago when two scientists from Oslo "discovered" it.

MINUTE GERMS SEEN BY TELEVISION AID

Tube Transmits Radio Pictures of Small Bodies.

Philadelphia.—Through a development, television may shortly assist medical science by making hitherto invisible germs visible, according to Philip T. Farnsworth, television pioneer.

By use of the special tube used in transmitting radio pictures, Farnsworth explained, infantile paralysis, cold and other germs can be subjected to ultra-violet light waves which are shorter and smaller than the rays of ordinary sunlight.

Pick Up Germ Images.

Because their size more nearly approaches the size of the mysterious bacteria, he said, the smaller rays can pick up images of the germs. The larger light rays are unable to pick up such images and they are then to the eye, even under the most powerful microscope.

But if this new method works out, Farnsworth predicted, pictures of many living disease-producing organisms will be seen for the first time and the work of fighting human ailments simplified.

Tube Picks Up Rays.

This will be possible, he continued, by placing known cultures of the bugs under a powerful microscope through which a stream of ultra-violet light is passed. The short wave rays then are picked up by the sensitive television tube, which acts much like a motion picture camera in photographing movement of the bacteria.

From the tube the ultra-violet light images are thrown onto a fluorescent screen and made visible.

Not only will medical men be able to see these tiny living things for the first time, Farnsworth went on, but—equally important—they will be able to see them alive.

King Edward VIII Likes Informality in Dress

London.—Just as he greatly influenced the trend of fashions as Prince of Wales, King Edward is already responsible for further changes since his accession to the throne of Great Britain.

The king dislikes unnecessary formality. No changes are likely in any of the great pageants like the trooping of the colors or the state opening of parliament, but on informal occasions it is the king's wish that minimum inconvenience should be caused to all concerned.

When he visited the British Industries fair as the first public engagement of his reign, the king let it be known that salesmen and officials who would be presented to him should wear derby hats instead of the traditional "topper" and cutaway. At the civil investiture at St. James palace members of the royal household were asked to wear morning instead of frock coats, hitherto customary. Except for members of the royal household and some elderly peers, the frock coat is little worn nowadays.

U. S. Ready to Purchase New Type Plane Engine

Washington.—The War department, it was learned, is preparing to place an order amounting to several millions of dollars for airplane engines of a new type which are described as "the most powerful in the world." The placing of the order, it is understood, awaits only the signature of Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary of war.

Details of the engine development and the name of the manufacturers have not been disclosed, but it is known that tests have been made at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, and that the officers assigned to conduct them have urged the acquisition of the engines, as part of the move to strengthen the G. H. Q. air force. Many of the new-type engines are expected to be installed in the aircraft ordered by the War department in December, when contracts were awarded for 115 new attack airplanes and 90 bombers. The 13 of the new bombers being built on the "flying fortress" design, it is understood, each will be powered with four of the new engines.

Whistler Makes Business of Her Trilling Powers

Seattle.—Nobody can tell Miss Lucia Carruthers, twenty-one years old, to go whistle for a living, for she already does. Whistling says the pretty Seattle girl, is an art.

So she has opened a whistling studio and is building up groups of hobby and professional whistlers. She starts with the scale and breathing exercises, then progresses to bird calls and obbligato, with concert work the final step.

"Whistlers, like singers, must be born with a certain flexibility of the tongue," she said. "I've whistled all my life, but it's only in recent years that I've whistled seriously."

As a background for professional whistling, Miss Carruthers studied music at Washington State college and in Los Angeles.

Simplest Lie Detector Is "Few Good Drinks"

Hamilton, Ont.—One of the simplest and most effective "lie detectors" is liquor, in the opinion of Prof. Joselyn Rogers, Ontario analyst. Asked about the detector, Rogers said that he believed a few good drinks was as effective a way as any to get a man talking, and telling the truth.

Spring At Matanuska

Palmer, Alaska, April 24 (AP)—Spring delights arrived today at Table Rock Matanuska colony—with the wedding, roads milder, mosquitoes biting, and last week's honey-cucumbers on the ship-march relishing their first appearance.

Tagging Major League Bases

By ANDY CLARKE
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

A trio of major league managers and one of the hired hands were holding up their heads with an unmistakable air of pride today after a day of redemption which wiped out the memory of a few unpleasant afternoons.

Mickey Cochrane's Detroit Tigers, champions of the world, took a wide decision from the St. Louis Browns, twice their conquerors, yesterday, the merry men of Casey Stengel, becoming serious after dropping their first three games to their hated rivals from across the river, belted over those Giants, and the venerable Connie Mack's Athletics, beaten three times by the Red Sox, turned and notched a victory against the golden boys.

Billy Myers, Reds' shortstop, hammered out a home run to beat the St. Louis Cards, in atonement for his error that enabled them to tie the score.

There was a note of dismay in the Dodger rejoicing, however. Randy Moore, right fielder, broke his leg while attempting to steal second in the second inning of a bitter duel which went ten frames. A pinch single by Sidney Gaultreaux sent home the winning tally in the 4-3 triumph.

Cochrane took off the black glasses he had been wearing on the sidelines because of eye trouble, and led his champions to a 10-0 win over the Browns. He got two singles, Gehring and Greenberg got three hits each and Gaultreaux.

The Reds won by 8-6 as Paul Dean went to the showers after allowing nine hits in seven innings. Paul Derringer, ace tosser of the Reds, was nicked for 15 bingles himself.

Harry Kelley, a rookie from Atlanta, gave the Philadelphia customers a ray of hope concerning the rebuilding plans of Connie Mack. He outlasted Wes Ferrell, who went only four innings and then went on to win his ball game, 9-1, allowing but three hits.

It was Kelley's first major league victory and but for Jimmie Fox's third homer of the year he would have had a shutout.

Johnny Allen held the White Sox to seven hits for a 6-0 shutout in his debut at the Cleveland Indians' home park.

Heavy stickwork gave the Yankees a 10-6 win over the Washington Senators.

Larry French won a pitchers' duel with Ralph Birkhofer as the Cubs noosed out the Pirates 2-1.

The Phillies defeated the Boston Bees 5-3 with Leo Norris and George Watkins driving in all of the Phillies' runs.

Dixie Walker and George Selkirk, Yankees—Their home runs, each with two men on base, led Yanks to win over Senators.

Sidney Gaultreaux, Dodgers—Hit pinch single in the last half of the 10th gave Dodgers a victory over Giants.

Harry Kelley, Athletics—His three-hit pitching gave Athletics a 9-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Larry French, Cubs—Won pitcher's duel with Ralph Birkhofer, scattering six hits to win over Pirates, 2-1.

Billy Mera, Reds—Hit a homer in the 10th with Gilly Campbell on base to beat Cards 4-6.

Leo Norris, Phillies—Drove in three of his team's five runs to beat Bees, 5-3.

Johnny Allen, Indians—His seven-hit pitching shut out the White Sox. Hank Greenberg and Elden Auker, Tigers—Former drove in four runs with three hits, and latter shut out Browns with six hits.

DON BUDGE WINS SHAKY VICTORY FROM GENE MAKO

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 24 (AP)—Bryan (Bitzy) Grant, Atlanta's Davis Cup star, stepped out today against Hal Surface, Jr., high ranking Kansas City player, for the right to meet Don Budge in the finals of the Mason-Dixon tennis tournament.

Budge holds one final berth by virtue of a shaky victory yesterday over Gene Mako, his fellow Californian and Davis Cup teammate.

Mako was 4-1 into the second set before Budge steadied and took five straight games, and Mako was leading 3-0 in the third set before Don perked up and won six of the next seven games.

Budge and the winner of today's match will meet Sunday for the spring tourney title.

Budge and Mako teamed up after the singles warfare in a doubles combination to meet Clifford B. Suttler of New Orleans and Surface today.

Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Tex., Davis Cup captain, and Johnny Van Ryn, Philadelphia doubles ace on the squad, were matched against Grant and J. Gilbert Hall of New York.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)

East Liverpool, Ohio—Dominic Mancini, 123, Pittsburgh, knocked out Al Gruver, 123, Akron, Ohio, (2).

Milwaukee—Jack Young, 147 1/2, Detroit, outpointed Ralph Leslie, 143 1/2, Eau Claire, Wis., (6).

Tulsa, Okla.—Jack Thompson, 124, Dallas, Tex., outpointed Benny Gentry, 124, Shawnee, Okla., (9).

The late W. L. Young, Stirling, held the boxing knockout record with 177 to his credit.

3,000 Athletes Meet At Franklin Field

Philadelphia, April 24 (AP)—Three thousand aspiring athletes—some of them with their eyes on this summer's Olympics—invade Franklin Field's huge concrete horseshoe today and tomorrow for the 42nd renewal of the University of Pennsylvania's relays classics.

Following custom, they start out at 2:15 p. m. with the 400-meter hurdles, an Olympic event, in which Charles Beetham of Ohio State is a heavy favorite. They will wind up late tomorrow with the four-mile relay, in which Michigan, Army, Michigan State, and possibly Penn with Gene Yenzke, are expected to battle it out.

The renewal of the sprint and broad jump, a duel between Jesse Owens of Ohio State and Elmer Peacock of Temple was the big attraction.

Owens and Peacock have lined up each electing to compete in four relays in addition to the sprint and broad jump.

But despite their presence in the 440 and 880 yard relay lineups for their respective colleges, the University of Texas speedsters are favored in those competitions, strictly on a performance basis.

Anton Kishon of Bates, almost a certainty for Uncle Sam's weight tossing squad, is listed for three events, including defense of his meet titles in discus and hammer throw.

With Owens, and Beetham, Ohio State has sent along another Olympic potentially in High Jumpers Dave Albritton who will get stiff opposition from Temple's Al Threadgill. Pitt presents its best, Eddie Taan, who has done 200 feet with the javelin.

The Wilbur Dodgers Sign Up Two Veterans

The Wilbur Dodgers announce that they have signed up two of Kingston's best veterans, Hank Cragan, who can give a good account of himself in any field position, and Eddie Scherer, colorful pitcher.

Cragan turned in several nice pitching performances and went through the season with the Dodgers last year with a batting average of .359.

Eddie Scherer started with the old Wilbur boys two decades ago and expects to pitch the Dodgers to many victories this coming season.

The two veterans will make their first appearance in the Wilbur lineup on Sunday, May 2, when the Dodgers play the Berard A. C.

St. Mary's basketball team averaged 39 points a game in its 25 contests of 1935-36.

Kingston High School Varsity Encounters Alumni Saturday

If the way Ed Burgevin, captain of the Alumni squad, is hustling around gathering up former Maroon and White players is any indication as to what his aggregation will do against the high school Varsity, local baseball fans will have a big treat in store for them when the two teams meet Saturday. It is uncertain as to whether the game will be played at the Fair Grounds or at the Athletic Field, but it will start at 2:30.

It is expected that Captain Burgevin will have both "Lefty" Martin and Johnny Burgevin on hand for mound duty. These hurlers have plenty of stuff on the ball and should cause the Varsity batters a lot of trouble. George Zadany will be on the receiving end. Tony Debrosky, Bobby Cullum, Ed Mnasian and Ed Burgevin appear to be the ones to cover the infield. Mac and Charlie Tiano along with Johnny Quest will most likely patrol the outer gardens.

Besides those players mentioned, it is expected that Burgevin will have a large squad of ball players on hand for relief duty in every department.

Coach Ken Anderson will choose either Lou Glenn or Charlie Bock for pitching duties with Tommy Malnes behind the bat. When not on the mound Glenn or Bock will cover first base. Tony Rhinehardt will handle the duties around the midway sack. Chapple Van Derzee will patrol the short-stop area while Captain Ralph DeCicco will cover the hot corner.

Elmer Hopper is the choice for left field. Eddie Bock for center and Ad Beckhoover on the right side. "Jab" Nyulassy and Jim Ashdown will be on reserve for outfield duty.

There will be no admission charge for this game and a large turnout is expected.

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT.

Washington—Dean Detton, 223, Salt Lake City, threw George Kovely, 215, Hollywood, Cal., 26:00.

Camden, N. J.—Joe Cox, 215, Toledo, O., threw Ernie Dusek, 220, Omaha, 22:15.

New Brunswick, N. J.—Young Sabo, 175, Hungary, defeated Dave Levin, 140, New York, two out of three falls.

C. & R. Social Club Special

There will be a special meeting of the C. & R. Social Club at 7:30 tonight. All those desiring to play softball should be present.

Behind the Scenes In the Wrestling Game

Columbus, O., April 24 (AP)—Dick Shikat, German claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling crown, and Joe Alvarez, Boston matchmaker, were back on the federal court mat for another airing of their contract troubles today, with Judge Mell G. Underwood, as the referee.

At least 10 witnesses were expected to take the stand as Alvarez attempted to prove that a managerial contract signed with him by Shikat was binding, and that an accounting of the champ's earnings was necessary.

Yesterday's session found written into the record a charge that six eastern American promoters were running the wrestling game as a "trust"; another that wrestlers operating within the alleged trust were forced to post forfeits to assure that they would "take orders," and still another that Shikat had been ordered to "lay down" in his match with Dan O'Mahoney March 2, but instead "crossed" everyone and won the title in 19 minutes.

Jack Curley, New York promoter with diversified interests, was on the witness stand more than five hours yesterday. He told of the "profit sharing" contract with five other promoters, but denied it constituted a "trust."

Curley said he never knew of a wrestling match that was "fixed."

Named with Curley as members of the profit-sharing wrestling group were Paul Bowser of Boston, Ed White of Chicago, Tom Parks of St. Louis, Ray Fabiani of Philadelphia, and Joe Mondt, Curley associate in New York.

Wilbur Married Mento Play Maroon's All Stars

The Wilbur Married Men's baseball team is scheduled to play Jimmy Maroon's All Stars Sunday at 1 o'clock sharp, at the Wilbur diamond.

Manager Eddie Trombley asks all players of both teams, to be on hand promptly and ready to play on time.

The Married Men will line up with Steve Lettus and Kayo Cullen, pitchers; Ken Buntin, catcher and captain; Wes Hyatt, 1b; Matt Jordan, 2b; Eddie Trombley, ss; Bud Conlin, 3b; Steve Butler, if; Charles Schick, cf. Paul Kennedy, rf.

Phil McDonald and Neville will be the battery for the All Stars.

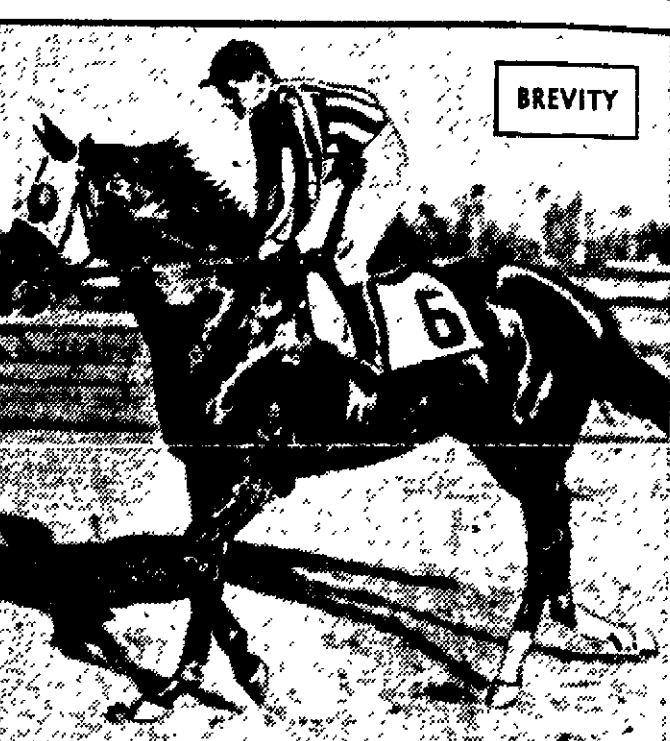

At Athletic Field Saturday

Captain James Carro announces that the Kingston A. C. will play the Vagues at the Athletic Field Saturday at 3:30.

Bowling Sweepstakes At Poughkeepsie

A bowling sweepstakes, to run Saturday and Sunday is expected to draw more than 100 bowlers of the Mid-Hudson valley to the Recreation alleys, Columbus Institute, Poughkeepsie, to compete for more than $100 in prizes.

The fifth of a series of tournaments staged at the Bridge City, the coming meet not only will attract bowlers of the Mid-Hudson region, but several from New England are also planning to attend. First prize for the two-day best three string is $40.

In the other tournaments this season bowlers from Kingston, Newburgh, Beacon, Peekskill and Hudson have competed against the best bowlers of Poughkeepsie. On two occasions out of town bowlers have captured the high honors.

Art Levine of New York city, brother of Harry, owner of the Recreation alleys, is in charge of the tournament. An entrance fee of $2, including bowling, will be charged. Spectators will be admitted free.

Hedrick Nine to Work Out Sunday

Manager Jimmy DeCicco's Hedrick Brewers will work out for the second time Sunday at Hasbrouck Park, starting at 1:30 p. m. sharp. Last Sunday the Brewers practiced at the Fourth Ward Park and showed up well.

This coming Sunday's drill will be in the form of a practice game with the Berard A. C. of East Kingston, the champs of last summer's Twilight League. Manager DeCicco expects the workout to be a lively one, and desires to see all his men on hand to take part.

Martin Noble, local distributor for Hedricks, is furnishing the team with baseball uniforms that should be in the hands of Manager DeCicco presently.

DRAKE RELAYS OPEN AT DES MOINES TODAY

Des Moines, Ia., April 24 (AP)—The Drake relays—the track and field games Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner, founded 27 years ago—opened here today with hardy young athletes from all parts of the nation in the field.

The feature event today was the distance medley in which Indiana University, with Don Lash, rounded the mile leg of the race, set its sights on a new world mark to eclipse the 10:12.7 performance by Emporia Kansas State Teachers at the Kansas track last week.

Jack Petty, Rice Institute, lucky entry, and Milan Zori, of North Carolina State, winner at the Penn games two years ago, were leading contenders for eleven throw honors.

There was little prospect that any of the contestants would touch the mark of 24 feet, 1 1/2 inches in the broad jump, held by James Owens of Ohio State. Manager of Notre Dame, with a record of 24 feet, 4 1/2 inches, was the favorite to top the Junior this year.

Holman's Basketball School May Furnish Men for Kingston Team

Out of the basketball school to be conducted by Nat Holman, City College coach, during the summer at the Y. M. H. A., 92nd street, New York, may come material for Frank Morgenweck's Kingston team in the American League next season.

The former Celtic star, who played with the Shamrocks from 1929 to '32, then broke into the coaching end of the game, promised "Pop" recently he'd be on the "out" for talent. In his 17 years as coach of City College, Holman has established the outstanding record of 191 victories against 49 defeats.

In addition to lectures and demonstrations at the summer school, Nat hopes to discuss movies of the games played in Madison Square garden last winter, and to show the cagers how to adapt their style to the changes in the rules adopted by the National Basketball Coaches' Association.

Holman and Morgenweck have been friends over a long period, and the famous coach seemed anxious to help Morgie develop a team of champions for the 1936-'37 American League season.

Nat is heartily in favor of Phil Rabinowitz for Kingston next season. He would like to see Dave Bass join the Morgenweckers, too, and after the summer school probably will be able to furnish "Pop" with several other good prospects for the American circuit.

Morgenweck is more than anxious to cop the pennant in John J. O'Brien's loop next season, so that Kingston may boast about a club that will conform to the high caliber of support that local fans give the games at the Municipal Auditorium. They turned out well during the past season for which Morgenweck is thankful and means to show his appreciation by developing a championship team.

Rabbi Tiecher Plans
Many Activities At Agudas Achim School

Rabbi Isaac J. Tiecher has taken over his duties as rabbi of the Congregation Agudas Achim at Union street, Kingston. He succeeds Rabbi Noah Rosenthal.

Rabbi Tiecher, who is a graduate of the Rabbinical Seminary of America, New York city, and has a pleasing personality, has been serving the synagogue at Broomfield, N. Y., for the past two years. He is a young man and takes particular interest in the problems of young people and hopes to do much in organizing and helping the young folks of the congregation Agudas Achim as well as caring for the welfare of the older members of his congregation.

Among some of Rabbi Tiecher's plans are: A daily Hebrew School, a special Sunday School program, special classes for high school students, classes for adults, junior Sunday services, a choir, dramatic groups and the organization of various clubs in line with activities carried on in the city congregations with which he is familiar.

He is planning for his first special observance, the celebration of Lag Bomer day, which comes on May 10. Lag Bomer celebrates the attempt by the Jews to regain their independence some 40 years after the capture and destruction of Jerusalem by the Romans under Titus.

Another old-timer, the horse, is staging a come-back in Ontario. There was a very marked increase in horse breeding in the season of 1935 over the season of 1934. The number of colts and fillies on farms increased from 47,400 on June 1, 1934, to 49,800 on June 1, 1935. Some localities reported three times as many foals raised in 1935 as were raised in 1933.

West Strand Woman
Found Dead In Home

Mrs. Ella Kelder, widow of Edward Kelder, who had her home on the third floor apartment at 21 West Strand, where she lived alone, suffered a heart attack about 9:15 this morning and died before Dr. Larkin, who had been summoned, could reach the home. Mrs. Kelder was found by Daniel McGrane, who occupies the second floor apartment. She had evidently gotten up and gone into the kitchen to prepare breakfast, when she was seized with the attack and sank to the floor. She was placed in bed and Dr. Larkin summoned. He certified to death from heart attack and Coroner Lester D. DuBois of New Paltz, who had also been summoned, rendered a verdict to that effect. The remains were turned over to Undertaker James V. Halloran.

Mrs. Kelder, who was about 65 years of age, is survived by one son, Henry Kelder, a student at Webb Institute, The Bronx and a sister, Mrs. John Davis, of Kingston; also two brothers, Daniel and John Collins of Highland. The funeral will be held from the Funeral Home of James V. Halloran, 44 Broadway, Monday at 8:45 a. m. and at St. Mary's Church at 9, where a requiem Mass will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Acker, Mrs. William Hopper, Mrs. Leslie Mott, Mrs. H. Atkins, the Misses Winifred and Helen Walters, Berth Huth and William Burger.

A card party will be held in the Ascension Parish House, on April 22, at 8 p. m., under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Southern Ulster County. There will be prizes and refreshments. The public is invited to attend.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, April 24.—Mrs. S. E. Brundage of Lake Katrine spent Easter week with her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Lortz.

Charles H. Weldner, proprietor of Locust Hill Poultry Farm, was a business caller at Woodland Valley Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Sheldon of Sheldon hill entertained her sister, Mrs. Brooks North of Olive Bridge and Mrs. S. E. Brundage of Lake Katrine, on Friday of last week.

Donald Bishop made a trip to Kingston on Wednesday.

Mrs. S. E. Brundage and Mrs. Brooks North were recent callers in Krumville at the home of their sister, Mrs. Homer B. Sheldon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barringer of Shokan were called to Margaretville on Monday, due to an unexpected illness sustained by his brother, William Barringer, who was a former resident here.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William C. Lortz called on her sister, Mrs. A. Brink, at Lake Katrine, bringing home their daughter, Geraldine, who spent Easter week with her aunt, Mrs. Brink.

A host of friends extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Grant Every of Boiceville Heights, who are the proud parents of a new daughter, born Tuesday, April 21. Dr. Hans J. Cohn of Shokan is the attending physician. Mother and baby are reported doing nicely.

Assessor Homer Markle, Sr., of Shokan, was unable to go out on the job Wednesday due to a severe cold. Mrs. Jane Ann Burgher has returned home after spending the winter with her daughters in New Jersey. Mrs. Burgher's many friends welcomed her return.

Mrs. Ray Wear has returned to her home after spending a week with her Main street neighbor, Mrs. Fannie Bolce.

Miss Bertha Merrill, who is teaching school at Woodbourne, Sullivan county, was an Olive visitor last week-end.

Mrs. Raymond Bell of Malby Hollow was called to Krumville on Wednesday due to illness of her mother, Mrs. Jervis Burgher.

Mrs. S. E. Brundage of Lake Katrine while visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Lortz, spent the day recently at her old home in Olive Bridge, with her brother, Charles Eckert, and wife.

Mrs. Viola Markle of Shokan spent Wednesday with her former neighbors gathered at the Ladies' Aid meeting held at the church basement.

Elmer Palen, the veteran and widely known Kingston horse dealer, was a caller here Wednesday afternoon.

One evening last week Mr. and Mrs. William C. Lortz entertained at their home on the Olive Bridge south road. Those present included Mrs. S. E. Brundage, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckert and Mrs. Brooks North. The evening was spent very pleasantly, Mr. Eckert entertaining with a variety of popular and old time favorite selections played on his guitar. The gathering was further favored by the serving of a delightful and bounteous variety of refreshments by the genial hostess.

Mrs. Frank Davis, Mrs. Mary Moore and granddaughter, Edith, of Samsonville, were among visitors attending the Ladies' Aid meeting here on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. Burgher spent the week-end on a trip to New Jersey.

Judge Lester S. Davis is having the beautiful bubbling spring walled up adjacent to his store. This spring supplied the CCC camp at Boiceville with drinking water during its earlier existence. A truck made two trips daily for hauling the water.

Miss Catherine Roe of West Shokan heights spent Tuesday night with her Kingston High School chum, Cornelia Davis.

There was no school here on Tuesday due to illness of the teacher, Mrs. Ruth R. West.

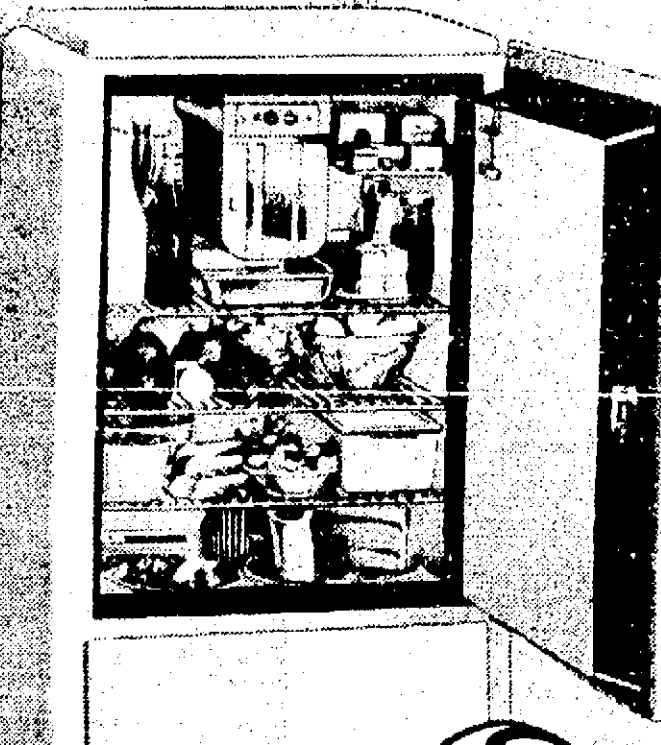

The West Shokan Ladies Aid held a large and enjoyable gathering at the church basement on Wednesday. One quilt was finished and two others were set up and partly done. The group was honored by the presence of several visitors, including Mrs. Frank Davis and Mrs. Mary Moore, members of the Samsonville Ladies' Aid Society. A very beautiful and savory dinner was prepared by the serving committee, Mrs. Anna Avery, Miss Jennie Kerr and other volunteers present. Sylvester Jones presided graciously as master of ceremonies. Two of the quilts are for Mrs. Claude Bell and the other for Mrs. Janie Eckert, the latter being of especially exquisite design and workmanship. Mrs. Bell's quilts are the work of her grandmother, who had pieced them during Mrs. Bell's girlhood. Next week the gathering on Wednesday will be held as usual at the church, with the latch string always out for visitors. Those present on Wednesday included Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Jones, Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. Chase Davis, Mrs. Fannie Bolce, Mrs. Charles Richter, Mrs. Viola Bell, Mrs. Claude Bell, Mrs. Marshall Howe, Mrs. Belle Burgher, Mrs. Anna Avery, Mrs. Bertha Palen, Mrs. Idella North, Mrs. Addie Van Horn, Mrs. Raymond Bell, Mrs. Ernest J. Kerr, Mrs. Lauren Bell, Mrs. Rachel Kerr, Miss Jennie Kerr, Mrs. Frank Davis, Mrs. Mary Moore and granddaughter, Edith Allen.

Social Held at St. Rem's

Thursday afternoon about 25 ladies of Kingston and Ulster county met at the St. Rem's Reformed Church, to listen to a very interesting talk and demonstration of electric ranges given by Mrs. Ruth W. Nelson, a representative of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. After the demonstration and talk a luncheon was served by the Ladies Aid Society and a social hour enjoyed. At the conclusion of the affair a ringing vote of thanks was given Mrs. Nelson.

A Dayehport, Ia., market return center offered $4 for small amounts of blood from recent and future with the disease.

Alewives Warning Issued by State

Albany, N. Y., April 24 (AP).—The state conservation department, anticipating the annual heavy run of alewives up the Hudson river, warns today that anyone who takes these fish except by angling or with licensed nets will be prosecuted.

The river herring swim upriver each spring to the federal dam at Troy to spawn. Great quantities of these fish wander into the Hudson's tributaries.

Last year, as the conservation department recalls, "the fish in many of the smaller tributaries seemed to be packed solidly in the water from bank to bank." Nearby residents gathered them in ash sieves, pieces of chicken wire, burlap bags and pails.

On The Radio Day By Day

New York, April 24 (AP).—A community sing via network radio with the studio audience as the basis, is the objective of a Sunday night series proposed by CBS. The first such broadcast, May 10, and subsequent ones, will be under the direction of John Barclay, six-foot baritone-actor. Not only will he direct the vocalizing audience in the studio but ask loud-speaker listeners to join in. The studio crowd will be required to show up a half hour ahead of time so that it can have a bit of rehearsing. Words of the songs will be thrown upon a screen for their benefit. After the programs get under way, it is planned to have guest directors, including Kate Smith.

Notes

Modena, April 23.—A reading school was conducted today in the Hasenrath Memorial Hall, commencing at 10:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Modena unit of the Home Bureau. Sewing machines, belonging to members, were loaned for the purpose, and several interesting displays were made.

Local members of the Home Bureau are planning to attend the Eastern District Federation meeting, held at Troy on May 6-7. Mrs. Frank Black is in charge of securing the bus to convey the group, and advises anyone wishing to go to notify the chairman, Mrs. Robert Cooper, so that arrangements can be made at once.

Many-Celled Animals

All living things, including man, consist of cells attached to each other; they are called the many-celled animals. In man, too, some of the cells make bones, but a much more complicated and interesting kind than the acorn worms. Yet, like everything else in the human body, it consists of millions of single cells that have grown to a certain way in order to be able to perform a certain task to the best of their ability.—Answers Magazine.

Moose River Mine Roof Is Sinking

nesday afternoon, the two survivors were in growing gloom.

It seemed like years after Mrs. Robertson and others at the surface told them "it will be only a few hours now."

The sight of the miners' lamps restored their courage, however, and Dr. Robertson and Scadding sat up and laughed as the rescuers approached. Dr. Robertson explained to Scadding just what food would be best for two men who had been starving for ten days.

Carried and escorted out of the mine, they asked for that very meal when they were taken to the emergency hospital. Each ordered fruit sugar, that of pears or peaches, toast saturated with butter and something to chew.

Doctors Concerned

Halifax, N. S., April 24 (AP)—Doctors, concerned over the condition of Charles Alfred Scadding, worked today to prevent aggravation of his "trench foot," an incipient stage of gangrene.

Scadding, rescued with Dr. E. Robertson from the Moose River gold mine cave-in, was brought to a Halifax hospital when it became apparent he needed more careful attention than could be provided at the emergency hospital set up in a shack at the mine.

Dr. H. K. MacDonald declined to elaborate on a bare announcement that Scadding's feet were the greatest source of worry.

Scadding's "general condition," Dr. MacDonald said, was "satisfactory."

The foot trouble began as chilblains induced by exposure to the damp and cold of the mine where he and Dr. Robertson were entombed for ten days.

In advance cases the ailment has been known to cause death through pollution of the blood stream.

Scadding's hopes for wealth from the Moose River gold mine may yet be realized—not from the gold, but from the fact that he lived for 10 days in an underground cavern.

He received today an offer of $500 a week to make personal appearances for a theatre chain.

Newspapers offered him various amounts for signed articles and broadcasting companies asked him to name his price to tell the story.

King Frances Draegermen Stellarton, N. S., April 24 (AP)—Stellarton's daring draegermen—the rescue experts trained for mining work—were delighted today when they learned King Edward personally had commended their work at the Moose River gold mine.

His majesty sent a message to the governor-general stating he was "thrilled with admiration for the heroism displayed by the gallant men who regardless of the risk of their own lives effected the rescue of Dr. Robertson and Mr. Scadding from the Moose River mine."

Refreshed today after their first real sleep, they talked of their long battle to get into the old gold mine. Coal miners "not lucky enough" to get the call to Moose River had to hear all about it.

"The greatest thrill was in shaking hands with Dr. Robertson when we broke through the barrier and got to them," said George Morrell, one of the first draegermen to get through to the entombed men. "He's a great man. I don't think those two would have been alive if it had not been that Robertson was a doctor."

Today plans were being made to take the last 60 tons of rock dug out by the rescue crew and use it to erect a cairn in honor of the draegermen.

The Nova Scotia government proceeded today with plans to honor the rescuers with gold medals for their bravery and skill.

Officials announced voluntary contributions to a Red Cross fund for the workers had passed $12,000. There were about 100 in the actual working party.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many relatives and friends for their kind acts of sympathy extended to us during our recent bereavement. In the death of Albert A. Altamari. We also wish to take this opportunity to extend our thanks for the beautiful floral tributes and Mass cards received.

Lester Purdy Is Held On Abduction Charge

Lester Purdy, 29, who has been rooming at 45 Downs street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sergeant Charles Phinney, who lodged a charge of abduction against Purdy. This morning in police court Purdy waived examination and was held to await the action of the grand jury. As he had been previously convicted on two felony charges, Judge Culliton stated that bail on the abduction charge would be fixed by the county judge.

The arrest of Purdy followed a complaint lodged with the police department by the parents of a 16 year old girl. According to the story as told by the girl she met Purdy at the corner of Prospect and Liberty streets early on the evening of Tuesday, April 14, and went for a walk with him. What occurred during the walk is what led to Purdy's arrest and the charge lodged against him.

Dog Bit Messenger Boy John Strubel, a messenger boy for the Western Union, reported to the police department last evening that he had been bitten by a dog.

that V-8 Feeling makes a world of difference!"

ONE of the lowest priced and most economical cars in the world today stands in a class by itself for sheer performance and driving pleasure. Over two and a half million American motorists have swung to it in less than four years. Over one million chose it in 1935 alone.

That car is the Ford V-8. Now we urge you to drive this great new 1936 Ford V-8 before you decide on any car at any price. We urge you to know for yourself the "feel" of Ford V-8 engine performance—the almost effortless ease of handling—the remarkable stability under all road conditions—the true fine-car riding comfort—which have "taken hold" so quickly and convincingly with the hard-buying audience that ever tested America's cars. Before you set out to judge modern motor car values, get the "feel" of the one low-price car that's in a class all by itself!
